

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Tyler Thompson
DOCKET NO.: 06-26251.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 32-07-102-009-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Tyler Thompson, the appellant, by attorney Joseph G. Kusper of Storino, Ramello & Durkin, Rosemont, Illinois; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $ 6,720
IMPR.: $ 21,308
TOTAL: $ 28,028

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

ANALYSIS

The subject property consists of a two-story single family dwelling of masonry construction that contains 2,048 square feet of living area. The dwelling is 51 years old. Features of the dwelling include a full unfinished basement, a fireplace and a one-car attached garage. The property is located in Flossmoor, Bloom Township, Cook County.

The appellant contends assessment inequity with respect to the improvement assessment as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant presented assessment information on four comparable properties. The comparable properties are improved with two-story dwellings of frame, masonry or frame and masonry exterior construction that range in size from 2,935 to 3,977 square feet of living area. The dwellings ranged in age from 42 to 97 years old. Each comparable has a full unfinished basement, three comparables have central air conditioning, three comparables have 1 or 2 fireplaces and each has a 1.5, 2, 2.5 or a 3-car garage. These properties have improvement assessments that range from $21,550 to $26,744 or from $6.72 to $7.60 per square foot of living area. The appellant contends the average improvement assessment for the comparables is $7.18 per square foot of living area, rounded. The appellant argued the subject's improvement assessment should be reduced to $7.18 per square foot of living area, resulting in a revised improvement assessment of $14,694.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein its final assessment of the subject totaling $28,028 was disclosed. The subject has an improvement assessment of $21,308 or $10.40 per square foot of living area. To demonstrate the subject property was equitably assessed, the board of review provided descriptions and assessment information on four comparable properties. The comparables were improved with two-story single family dwellings of frame and masonry exterior construction that range in size from 2,434 and 3,372 square feet of living area. The dwellings ranged in age from 20 to 41 years old. These properties have the same classification code and neighborhood code as the subject property. Each comparable has a full or partial basement with one being finished, central air conditioning, one or two fireplaces and a 2-car or 3-car attached garage. These properties have improvement assessments ranging from $26,220 to $36,094 or from $10.27 to $10.91 per square foot of living area. The board of review contends the assessment should be confirmed.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal. The Board further finds the evidence in the record does not support a reduction in the assessment of the subject property.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. Taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessments by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). The evidence must demonstrate a consistent pattern of assessment inequities within the assessment jurisdiction. After an analysis of the assessment data the Board finds a reduction is not warranted.

The parties submitted descriptions and assessment information on eight comparables to support their respective arguments. The Board finds the comparables are not particularly similar to the subject in age, construction and size. Nevertheless, the comparables most similar to the subject in size were appellant's comparable 1 and the board of review comparables 1 and 2. These three properties were improved with the two-story dwellings of frame and masonry construction that ranged in size from 2,434 to 3,150 square feet of living area. These dwellings ranged in age from 34 to 65 years old. Each comparable has a partial basement with one being finished, central air conditioning, 1 or 2 fireplaces and a two-car attached garage. These properties had improvement assessments ranging from $21,550 to $34,380 or from $7.34 to $10.91 per square foot of living area. The subject has an improvement assessment of $21,308 or $10.40 per square foot of living area, which is within the range established by the comparables most similar in size in the record on a per square foot basis. This evidence indicates the subject's improvement assessment is not inequitable. Little weight was given to the remaining comparables due to the fact that the comparables were significantly larger than the subject dwelling and also differed in age.

After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' comparables when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is equitable and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
