

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Dick Lamm
DOCKET NO.: 08-23048.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 05-32-100-023-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Dick Lamm, the appellant, by attorney James E. Doherty, of Thomas M. Tully & Associates in Chicago, and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $ 12,604
IMPR: $ 80,308
TOTAL: $ 92,912

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

ANALYSIS

The subject property is improved with a two-story dwelling of masonry construction. The dwelling is 62 years old and contains 3,250 square feet of living area. Features of the home include a full finished basement, central air conditioning, a fireplace, and a one-car attached garage. The subject is classified as a class 2-78 residential property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance and is located in Wilmette, New Trier Township, Cook County.¹

The appellant's appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment process and contention of law. The appellant submitted information on five suggested comparable properties described as two-story dwellings of masonry or frame and masonry construction. The comparable properties have the same assigned classification and neighborhood codes as the subject. The comparable dwellings are from 41 to 47 years old and contain from 2,898 to 3,304 square feet of living area. Two comparables have full finished basements, and three have partial unfinished basements. Each comparable has central air conditioning and a garage, and four comparable dwellings have a fireplace. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $52,486 to

¹ Class 2-78 is a two or more story residence, up to 62 years of age, 2,001 to 3,800 square feet.

$66,771 or from $17.67 to $21.66 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment is $80,308 or $24.71 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested that the subject's improvement assessment be reduced to $70,596 or $21.72 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's final assessment of $92,912 was disclosed. The board of review presented descriptions and assessment information on four suggested comparable properties consisting of two-story dwellings of masonry construction. The comparable properties have the same assigned neighborhood and classification codes as the subject. The dwellings are from 48 to 54 years old and contain from 2,845 to 3,554 square feet of living area. Three comparables have full finished basements, and one has a full finished basement. Each comparable has a garage and central air conditioning, and three comparables have one or two fireplaces. These properties have improvement assessments ranging from $70,840 to $92,415 or from $24.90 to $27.25 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Board further finds a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The appellant contends unequal treatment in the subject's improvement assessment as the basis of the appeal. Taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not met this burden.

Both parties presented assessment data on a total of nine suggested comparables. The Board finds all of the comparables submitted were two-story dwellings with the same neighborhood and classification codes as the subject. The Board finds that the board of review's comparable #2 was most similar to the subject in age and size and was very similar in exterior construction and features. The Board further finds that the remaining eight comparables, despite some differences, were also similar to the subject. The appellant's comparables #1, #2, and #5 were very similar to the subject in size. However, as a group, the appellant's comparables were not as close in age to the subject, and four of the five comparables had frame and masonry exterior construction that was dissimilar to the subject's masonry exterior. The board of review's comparables #1, #3, and #4 had masonry exterior construction and were closer in age to the subject, but they differed somewhat in living area. All of the comparables submitted had improvement assessments that ranged from $52,486 to $80,962 or from $17.67 to $27.25 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $80,308 or $24.71 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by these comparables. After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' comparables when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is equitable and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. The requirement is satisfied if the intent is evident to adjust the taxation burden with a reasonable degree of uniformity and if such is the effect of the statute enacted by the General Assembly establishing the method of assessing real property in its general operation. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill. 2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the appellant disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence. For the foregoing reasons, the Board finds that the appellant has not proven by clear and convincing evidence that the subject property is inequitably assessed. Therefore, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that the subject's assessment as established by the board of review is correct and no reduction is warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
