

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: David Bergonia
DOCKET NO.: 08-23671.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 05-28-205-002-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are David Bergonia, the appellant, by attorney James E. Doherty, of Thomas M. Tully & Associates in Chicago, and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $ 54,040 IMPR.: $ 157,628 TOTAL: $ 211,668

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

ANALYSIS

The subject property is improved with a two-story dwelling of frame and masonry construction. The dwelling is 85 years old and contains 4,015 square feet of living area. Features of the home include a full finished basement, a fireplace, and a two-car attached garage. The subject is classified as a class 2-06 residential property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance and is located in Kenilworth, New Trier Township, Cook County.

The appellant's appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment process. The appellant submitted information on six suggested properties described as two-story dwellings of frame, stucco, or frame and masonry construction. The comparables have the same assigned classification and neighborhood codes as the subject, and one of the comparables is located on the same street as the subject, two blocks away. The comparable dwellings are from 101 to 129 years old and contain from 3,296 to 4,500 square feet of living area. One comparable has a partial finished basement, and five comparables have unfinished basements, either full or partial. Five comparables have a garage; four dwellings have one or two fireplaces; and two have central air conditioning. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $105,500 to $161,508 or $30.37 to $35.96 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment is $157,628 or $39.26 per square foot of living area. The appellant's attorney requested that the subject's improvement assessment be reduced to $134,904 or $33.60 per square foot of living area.

² When the appellant's attorney completed Section 2e of the residential appeal form, counsel indicated the appeal was being based on assessment equity and a contention of law. The appellant's attorney submitted a brief which only addressed assessment inequity and the relief the appellant was requesting.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's final assessment of $211,668 was The board of review presented descriptions and assessment information on four suggested properties consisting of two-story dwellings of frame and masonry construction. comparables same assigned have the neighborhood classification codes as the subject, and one of the comparables is located in the same tax block as the subject. The dwellings are from 77 to 91 years old and contain from 2,981 to 4,400 square feet of living area. Each comparable has an unfinished basement, either full or partial, one or two fireplaces, and a Two dwellings have central air conditioning. properties have improvement assessments ranging from $136,113 to $191,352 or $40.54 to $45.66 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Board further finds a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The appellant contends unequal treatment in the subject's improvement assessment as the basis of the appeal. Taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not met this burden.

Both parties presented assessment data on a total of ten suggested comparables. All of the comparables submitted were two-story dwellings with the same assigned neighborhood and classification codes as the subject. However, the appellant's comparables were generally much older than the subject property. Additionally, the appellant's comparables #2 and #4 and the board of review's comparables #3 and #4 had from 10% to 26% less living area than the subject, and the appellant's comparables #1, #3, and #5 had 11% or 12% more living area. As a result, these seven comparables received reduced weight in the Board's analysis. The Board finds the appellant's comparable #6 and the board of review's comparables #1 and #2 were most similar to the subject in size. Moreover, the board of review's comparables #1 and #2 was also most similar in age. Due to their similarities to the subject, these comparables received the most weight in the Board's analysis. These comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $137,855 to $191,352 or $34.55 to $43.49 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $157,628 or $39.26 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the most similar comparables. After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' comparables when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is equitable and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. requirement is satisfied if the intent is evident to adjust the taxation burden with a reasonable degree of uniformity and if such is the effect of the statue enacted by the General Assembly establishing the method of assessing real property in its general operation. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill. 2d 395 Although the comparables presented by the appellant disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence. For the foregoing reasons, the Board finds that the appellant has not proven by clear and convincing evidence that the subject property is inequitably assessed. Therefore, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that the subject's assessment as established by the board of review is correct and no reduction is warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
