Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2009 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property is 87-year old residential condominium building containing 19 residential units. The units range in ownership interest in the common elements from 3.79% to 6.06%. The property was converted into condominium units in 2006 which is when all initial sales occurred. There have been no subsequent transfers. The property has a 7,146 square foot site and is located in Rogers Park Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-99 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends overvaluation as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted two representative appraisals estimating the value of PINs 1004 and 1006 at $170,000 each as of January 1, 2009. These individual market values indicate a market value for the condominium building of $2,951,389.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $316,544. The subject's assessment reflects a market value of $3,556,674 when applying the 2009 three-year median level of assessment of 8.9% for class 2 property as determined by the Illinois Department of Revenue.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted a condominium analysis detailing seven suggested comparable sales in the subject's building that sold during the initial 2006 conversion for an aggregate price of $1,306,500. The board of review applied a 2% market value reduction to the subject for personal property, without further evidence, to arrive at an adjusted market value of $1,280,376 for the units sold. The board of review disclosed the sold units sold comprised 36.6% of all units in the building. The result yielded a full market value of the condominium property of $3,498,295.

Conclusion of Law

The appellant contends the market value of the subject property is not accurately reflected in its assessed valuation. When market value is the basis of the appeal the value of the property must be proved by a preponderance of the evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of market value may consist of an appraisal of the subject property, a recent sale, comparable sales or construction costs. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(c). The Board finds the appellant met this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of market value to be the appraisals submitted by the appellant, as the sales analyzed by the board of review were from 2006, at the time when the initial condominium conversion occurred. The subject's assessment reflects a market value above the best evidence of market value in the record. The Board finds the subject property had a market value of $2,951,389 as of the assessment date at issue. Since market value has been established the 2009 three year average median level of assessment for class 2 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance of 8.9% as determined by the Illinois Department of Revenue shall apply. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(c)(2).

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
