

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: 6413 N Leavitt Condominium Association
DOCKET NO.: 11-20812.001-R-1 through 11-20812.007-R-1
PARCEL NO.: See Below

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are 6413 N Leavitt Condominium Association, the appellant(s), by attorney David C. Dunkin, of Arnstein & Lehr, LLP in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds a reduction in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

DOCKET NO	PARCEL NUMBER	LAND	IMPRVMT	TOTAL
11-20812.001-R-1	11-31-316-055-1001	1,136	7,668	$ 8,804

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2011 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of seven condominium units, four of which are residential units and three of which are parking units, contained in an 83 year-old, multi-story, seven-unit residential condominium building of masonry construction. Each unit has its own Property Index Number (PIN). The property has a 3,741 square foot site and is located in Rogers Park Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a Class 2-99 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant's appeal is based on overvaluation. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted a condominium analysis with information on suggested comparable sales for two residential units (PINs 1002 and 1004) and two parking units (PINs 1005 and 1007) in the building. The parking units were sold in the same transaction as the sale of the residential units. Prices paid for each of the four units sold were not broken down as to the specific sale price of each unit. Instead, the sale prices disclosed were the total of one residential and one parking unit for each transaction. PINs 1001, 1003 and 1006 are part of the subject but were not recently sold. The four sold units sold from 2009 through 2010 for a total of $303,000. The evidence included a spreadsheet that disclosed the percentages of ownership of each of the seven units in the building. The appellant applied a $20,000 reduction to each of the two residential sold units in the subject for personal property without further evidence to arrive at an adjusted market value of $263,000 of the four units sold. The appellant disclosed the units sold consisted of 55.1305% of all units in the building. The result was a full value of the subject at $477,050. The appellant then applied a 10.00% debasement factor to arrive at a suggested assessed value of the subject at $47,705. Since the seven-unit subject was 100.00% of all the units in the building, the appellant suggested the market value of the subject to be $477,050. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's assessment.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $79,397. The subject's assessment reflects a market value of $836,639 when applying the 2011 three-year average median level of assessment of 9.49% for Class 2 property as determined by the Illinois Department of Revenue.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted a condominium analysis with information on suggested comparable sales for one unit in the building that sold in 2007 for $167,500. The evidence included a spreadsheet that disclosed the percentages of ownership of each of the seven units in the subject. The board of review applied a 2.00% market value reduction to the subject for personal property without further evidence to arrive at a full market value of $164,150 of the one unit sold. The board of review disclosed the unit sold consisted of 16.88% of all units in the building. The result was a full value of the property at $972,453. Since the board of review asserted in its calculation that the subject was 100.00% of all the units in the building, the board of review suggested the market value of the subject to be $972,453.

Conclusion of Law

The appellant contends the market value of the subject property is not accurately reflected in its assessed valuation. When market value is the basis of the appeal the value of the property must be proved by a preponderance of the evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of market value may consist of an appraisal of the subject property, a recent [emphasis added] sale, comparable sales or construction costs. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(c). The Board finds the appellant met this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of market value to be the condominium analysis submitted by the appellant. It was based on two recent sales of two residential units with two parking units included in the building occurring from 2009 through 2010. In contrast, the analysis submitted by the board of review was based on one 2007 sale in the building. This sale was not recent. However, the Board does not reduce the market value of the residential units sold by $20,000 each for personal property since there is no evidence in support of this reduction. Therefore, based on this record the Board finds the full value of the entire building to be $549,605, and of the seven-unit subject to be $549,605 as of January 1, 2011. The Board finds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is justified. Since market value has been determined, the 2011 three-year average median level of assessment of 9.49% for Class 2 property as determined by the Illinois Department of Revenue shall apply (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(c)(2)) to each of the seven units in proportion to their respective percentages of ownership in the building.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
