

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Tim Winter
DOCKET NO.: 12-31832.001-I-1
PARCEL NO.: 08-36-300-012-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Tim Winter, the appellant(s), by attorney Adam E. Bossov, of the Law Offices of Adam E. Bossov, P.C. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds A Reduction in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $ 195,060
IMPR.: $ 121,103
TOTAL: $ 316,163

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2012 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board (the "Board") finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject consists of a one-story building of masonry construction with 5,680 square feet of building area. The building is 19 years old. The property has a 163,916 square foot site, and is located in Chicago, Jefferson Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 5-93 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends land assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on six equity comparables.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $387,466. The subject property has a land assessment of $266,363, or $1.62 per square foot of land area.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on six comparable sales from the CoStar Comps Service.

In rebuttal, the appellant reaffirmed the evidence previously submitted and argued that the board of review's evidence was unresponsive to the appellant's equity argument. The appellant also waived the original request for an oral hearing. Moreover, the appellant argued that the board of review reduced the subject's assessment for tax year 2013, and that under Hoyne Savings & Loan v. Hare, 60 Ill.2d 84 (1974) the Board should reduced the subject's assessment for the instant tax year.

Conclusion of Law

Initially, the Board gives no weight to the appellant's contention of law referencing Hoyne, which was raised in rebuttal. In Moroney & Co. v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 2013 IL App (1st) 120493, the Court stated that the appellant's reliance on Hoyne "for the proposition that subsequent actions by assessing officials are fertile grounds to demonstrate a mistake in a prior year's assessments" was misplaced. Moroney, 2013 IL App (1st), ¶ 46. In Moroney, the Court wrote in pertinent part:

[I]n each of those unique cases [Hoyne and 400 Condominium Ass'n v. Tully, 79 Ill.App.3d 686 (1979)], which are confined to their facts, there were glaring errors in the tax assessments—in Hoyne, the assessment was increased on a property from $9,510 to $246,810 in one year even though no changes or improvements to the property had occurred (Hoyne, 60 Ill.2d at 89), and in 400 Condominium, assessments on a garage were assessed separately from the adjoining condominium in violation of the Condominium Property Act (400 Condominium, 79 Ill.App.3d at 691). Here, based upon the evidence that was submitted, there is no evidence that there was an error in the calculation of the 2005 assessment. Rather, the record shows that the 2005 assessment was properly calculated based on the market value of the property.

Id. The Board finds the appellant presented no credible evidence showing there were unusual circumstances present in this 2012 appeal relative to the establishment of the subject's assessment for tax year 2013. Therefore, the Board finds that the appellant's Hoyne argument is without merit.

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of land assessment equity to be appellant's comparables #1, #2, and #3. These comparables each had a land assessment of $1.19 per square foot of land area. The subject's assessment of $1.62 per square foot of land area falls above the range established by the best comparables in this record. Based on this record, the Board finds the appellant did demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's land was inequitably assessed, and a reduction in the subject's assessment is justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
