

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Chad and Laura Hrechko
DOCKET NO.: 14-02475.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 03-11-181-001

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Chad and Laura Hrechko, the appellants, and the Grundy County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Grundy County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $14,327
IMPR.: $42,242
TOTAL: $56,569

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellants timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Grundy County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2014 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a part two-story and part one-story single-family dwelling of frame construction with 2,321 square feet of living area. The dwelling was constructed in 2002. Features of the home include a full unfinished basement, central air conditioning, a fireplace and a 529 square foot garage. The property has a .21-acre site and is located in Minooka, Aux Sable Township, Grundy County.

The appellants contend assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal concerning the subject's improvement assessment. No dispute was raised concerning the land assessment. In support of this inequity argument, the appellants submitted information on four equity comparables in the Section V grid analysis that were located within 1/8 of a mile from the subject property; these four comparables were repeated in a second chart and were identified as "original comparables submitted" along with a second chart of comparables numbered 1 through 5 entitled "additional comparables to support claim."

The "original" four comparables consist of two-story frame or frame and brick dwellings that were 10 or 12 years old. The homes range in size from 2,792 to 2,987 square feet of living area and feature full unfinished basements, central air conditioning, a fireplace and a two-car garage ranging in size from 441 to 917 square feet of building area. The properties have improvement assessments ranging from $33,607 to $44,816 or from $11.92 to $15.00 per square foot of living area for a reported average improvement assessment of $14.05 per square foot of living area.

The "additional" five comparables range in size from 2,700 to 3,054 square feet of living area. No other descriptive details were provided by the appellants in the chart such as foundation, age, exterior construction or amenities. These properties have improvement assessments ranging from $42,724 to $48,042 or from $15.06 to $15.82 per square foot of living area or an average improvement assessment of $15.45 per square foot of living area.

Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduced improvement assessment of $34,653 or $14.93 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $56,569. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $42,242 or $18.20 per square foot of living area.

In response to the appeal, the board of review submitted a letter from its Chairman who noted that the appellants' comparables are each larger than the subject dwelling. Furthermore, the subject is a custom home.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables located within a 2.5 block radius of the subject. Each comparable is a part two-story and part one-story dwelling of frame and brick construction that was built between 2002 and 2004. The home range in size from 2,277 to 2,468 square feet of living area and have full basements, central air conditioning, a fireplace and a garage ranging in size from 552 to 792 square feet of building area. These comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $46,671 to $56,183 or from $18.91 to $24.67 per square foot of living area.

Based on the foregoing evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayers contend assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellants did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The parties submitted a total of 13 equity comparables to support their respective positions before the Property Tax Appeal Board. On this limited record and in the absence of details of characteristics of the respective dwellings, the Board has given reduced weight to the appellants' "additional" comparables and has given reduced weight to the appellants' "original" comparables as each is substantially larger than the subject dwelling. Accepted real estate valuation theory provides that all factors being equal, as the size of the property increases, the per unit value decreases. In contrast, as the size of a property decreases, the per unit value increases.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the board of review comparables. These four comparables were dwellings that had improvement assessments that ranged from $18.91 to $24.67 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $18.20 per square foot of living area falls below the range established by the best comparables in this record. Based on this record the Board finds the appellants did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. The requirement is satisfied if the intent is evident to adjust the taxation burden with a reasonable degree of uniformity and if such is the effect of the statute enacted by the General Assembly establishing the method of assessing real property in its general operation. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill. 2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence. For the foregoing reasons, the Board finds that the appellant has not proven by clear and convincing evidence that the subject property is inequitably assessed. Therefore, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that the subject's assessment as established by the board of review is correct and no reduction is warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
