

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: TM Freedom LLC
DOCKET NO.: 16-01072.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 30-07-25-302-014-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are TM Freedom LLC, the appellant, by attorney Alexander Echevarria, of the Law Offices of Alexander A. Echevarria in Oak Park; and the Will County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Will County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $4,799
IMPR.: $23,516
TOTAL: $28,315

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Will County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2016 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property is improved with a one-story single-family dwelling of masonry exterior construction with 1,040 square feet of living area. The dwelling is situated on a 10,890-square foot site. The dwelling was constructed in 1961. Features of the dwelling include central air conditioning and a detached garage with 576 square feet of building area. The property is located in Joliet, Joliet Township, Will County.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The appellant did not contest the land assessment. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on three assessment comparables purportedly located “near” the subject pursuant to appellant’s brief. The grid analysis submitted by the appellant lacked any information regarding the comparables’ proximity to the subject nor their neighborhood codes. The comparables are described as one-story single-family dwellings of frame exterior construction containing either

1,320 or 1,344 square feet of living area. The dwellings were constructed in 1961 or 1962. The comparables feature a full unfinished basement, two comparables have central air conditioning and one comparable has a detached garage containing 576 square feet of building area. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $23,783 to $25,863 or from $17.70 to $19.24 per square foot of living area. Appellant's attorney submitted a brief indicating "[w]e adjusted certain characteristics [sic] of the subject property and comparable properties to equalize and provide a fair comparison of the assessed value and per square footage value." Based on this evidence, the appellant requested that the improvement assessment of the subject be reduced.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $28,315. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $23,516 or $22.61 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables located within the same neighborhood code and the same subdivision as the subject property. The comparables are improved with one-story single-family dwellings of frame or masonry exterior construction ranging in size from 960 to 1,352 square feet of living area. The comparables were constructed in 1961. One of the comparables has an unfinished basement; three comparables have central air conditioning, and each of the comparables has a garage ranging in size from 288 to 720 square feet of building area. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $21,703 to $31,728 or from $22.61 to $26.72 per square foot of living area. The board of review submitted a grid analysis of the appellant's comparables with complete descriptive information along with property record cards for the board of review comparables. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested that the subject's improvement assessment be confirmed.

Conclusion of Law

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

As an initial matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board gave no weight to the appellant's application of a mathematical calculation in arriving at the median improvement assessment and median price per square foot of living area. Contrary to this argument, the decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board must be based upon equity and the weight of evidence, not upon a simplistic statistical formula of using the median building assessed value or median price per square foot of living area of those comparables determined to be most similar to the subject. (35 ILCS 200/16-185; Chrysler Corp. v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 69 Ill.App.3d 207 (2nd Dist. 1979); Mead v. Board of Review, 143 Ill.App.3d 1088 (2nd Dist. 1986); Ellsworth Grain Co. v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 172 Ill.App.3d 552 (4th Dist. 1988); Willow Hill Grain, Inc. v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 187 Ill.App.3d 9 (5th Dist. 1989)). Based upon the foregoing legal principles and contrary to the assertion of the appellants' counsel in his brief, there is no indication that a simple mathematical calculation is the most equitable means to determine market value.

The parties submitted a total of seven suggested comparables for the Board's consideration. The comparables have varying degree of similarity to the subject property. The Board gave less weight to the appellant's comparable #1 and #3 due to these lacking a garage, unlike the subject. The Board gave less weight to the board of review comparable #4 due to having a basement in addition to its larger size of living area when compared to the subject.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be appellant's comparable #2 along with board of review comparables #1, #2 and #3. These four comparables are most similar to the subject property in location, dwelling size, design, and most features. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $21,703 to $26,396, or from $19.24 to $26.72 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $23,516 or $22.61 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the most similar comparables in this record. After considering adjustments to the comparables for differences when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is justified. Based on this record, the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and, therefore, no reduction in the subject's assessment is justified.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. The requirement is satisfied if the intent is evident to adjust the taxation burden with a reasonable degree of uniformity and if such is the effect of the statute enacted by the General Assembly establishing the method of assessing real property in its general operation. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill. 2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
