

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Frank Cortellassi
DOCKET NO.: 16-30674.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 15-34-110-070-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Frank Cortellassi, the appellant, by attorney John S. Xydakis, of the Law Offices of John S. Xydakis in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $2,940
IMPR.: $13,398
TOTAL: $16,338

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2016 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 1½-story dwelling of frame construction. The dwelling is 64 years old and has 1,152 square feet of living area. Features include a partial unfinished basement, central air conditioning and a 1½-car garage. The property has a 5,600 square-foot site and is located in Brookfield, Proviso Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-03 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The subject's land assessment is not being contested. In support of the inequity argument, the appellant submitted a grid analysis with information on four equity comparables and a spreadsheet with limited information on three additional equity comparables. On the grid analysis, four comparables are described as two, 1-story and two, 1½-story dwellings of frame, masonry, or frame and masonry construction. The four comparables range in age from 61 to 75 years old, and two of these comparables did not have basements. The three additional comparables had no detailed description provided other than classification and neighborhood codes, size, and improvement assessment. The seven comparable dwellings range in size from 1,008 to 1,778 square feet of living area and have improvement assessments that range from $8,457 to $14,331 or from $6.90 to $8.39 per square foot of living area. The appellant submitted a map which revealed that two comparables were located near the subject property. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment to $9,562 or $8.30 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's final assessment of $16,338 was disclosed. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $13,398 or $11.63 per square foot of living area. The board of review presented descriptions and assessment information on four comparable properties with the same neighborhood and classification codes as the subject. The comparables were described as being located a quarter-mile from the subject property. The comparables are improved with one, 1-story and three, 1½-story dwellings of frame or frame and masonry construction. The dwellings are from 65 to 72 years old and contain from 1,020 to 1,281 square feet of living area. Three comparables have unfinished basements, either full or partial, and one has a partial finished basement. One comparable has central air conditioning. Each comparable has a garage, either 1-car or 2-car. The board of review's comparable properties have improvement assessments ranging from $14,197 to $17,075 or from $13.00 to $13.95 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The parties presented assessment data on a total of eleven suggested comparables. The appellant's seven comparables received reduced weight in the Board's analysis for a variety of reasons: The appellant did not provide enough descriptive information regarding comparables #5 through #7 to demonstrate they were similar to the subject property. The appellant's comparables #1 and #4 differed from the subject in story height and foundation; and comparables #2 and #3 had substantially more living area. In addition, board of review comparable #4 differed from the subject in story height and also received reduced weight. The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be board of review comparables #1 through #3. The Board finds these comparables were very similar to the subject in location, story height, frame construction, age, living area and foundation. These comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $16,344 to $17,075 or from $13.00 to $13.95 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $13,398 or $11.63 per square foot of living area falls below the range established by the best comparables in this record. Based on this record, the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
