

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: John and Janet Clarkson Trust
DOCKET NO.: 16-35465.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 03-29-403-040-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are John and Janet Clarkson Trust, the appellant(s), by attorney George J. Behrens, of Behrens & Truong LLC in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds A Reduction in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $668
IMPR.: $37,040
TOTAL: $37,708

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2016 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property is a ten year-old, two-story dwelling of frame and masonry construction containing 2,060 square feet of living area. It is one of eleven dwellings in a residential development commonly known as Hickory Row Homes (Hickory). Features of the subject include a partial finished basement, central air conditioning, one fireplace and a two-car garage. The property has a 1,215 square foot site in Arlington Heights, Wheeling Township, Cook County. The evidence did not disclose whether the subject was owner-occupied in the lien year. The subject is a Class 2 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on six suggested equity comparable properties that were from outside the Hickory development.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $51,409. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $50,741, or $24.63 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on three suggested equity comparable properties, one of which, comparable #1, was in the Hickory development.

The appellant submitted a rebuttal brief in which it asserted all eleven of the row houses in Hickory had been appealed to the Board and that each of them was similar with the subject. The appellant further argued that one of the cited comparable properties cited by the board of review, comparable #1, was under appeal to the Board and was part of the same Hickory residential development. Therefore, the appellant argued, that the Board would err as a matter of law by selecting comparable properties which received the same assessment contested by the subject. As to the board of review's comparables #2 and #3, the appellant argued that they were dissimilar to the subject in various key property characteristics. The appellant reaffirmed the request for an assessment reduction.

Conclusion of Law

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparable properties to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant met this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The Board finds the equity comparables cited by the appellant are the best evidence of lack of uniformity because they were townhomes selected from outside the subject's townhome development. Citing equity comparable properties that received the same assessment as the subject because they were part of a unified residential development would render comparisons meaningless, especially where they are also the subject of appeals to the Board. See, Pace Realty Group v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 306 Ill.App.3d 718 (2nd Dist. 1999). Comparable #1 cited by the board of review is in the Hickory development. The Board gives that comparable limited weight.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparable(s) #1, #2, #3, #4, #5 and #6. These comparable properties were most similar with the subject and had improvement assessments that ranged from $15.80 to $18.10 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $24.63 per square foot of living area falls above the range established by the best comparable properties in this record. Based on this record, the Board finds the appellant demonstrated with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and holds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
