

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Pamela Sisson
DOCKET NO.: 17-21013.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 02-10-303-020-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Pamela Sisson, the appellant, by Amy C. Floyd, Attorney at Law in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $12,190
IMPR.: $22,992
TOTAL: $35,182

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2017 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a one-story dwelling of frame construction with 2,376 square feet of living area. The dwelling is 56 years old. Features of the home include a partial basement, central air conditioning, and a two-car garage. The property has a 21,200 square foot site and is located in Palatine, Palatine Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-04 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity with respect to the improvement as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on four equity comparables that are located within the same neighborhood code as the subject property.¹ The appellant's evidence included a map depicting the locations of their comparables relative to the subject property. The comparables are improved with 1-story or 1.5-story dwellings of frame or frame and masonry exterior construction containing from 1,820 to 2,846 square feet of living area. The dwellings range in age from 44 to 47 years old and each has a basement. Three comparables have central air conditioning, and three comparables have at least one fireplace. The photographs submitted by the appellant shows each comparable has a garage area. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $6,643 to $10,360 or from $3.07 to $3.65 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested that the improvement assessment be reduced to $8,364 or $3.52 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $35,182. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $22,992 or $9.68 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables that are located within the same neighborhood code, same block and/or street as the subject. The comparables are improved with one-story dwellings of frame exterior construction containing from 1,868 to 2,219 square feet of living area. The dwellings range in age from 41 to 52 years old. Three comparables have partial or full unfinished basements, two comparables have central air conditioning, and each comparable has one or two fireplaces and a 1.5-car or a 2-car garage. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $20,595 to $24,615 or from $9.84 to $11.59 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested that the assessment be confirmed.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The parties submitted eight suggested comparables for the Board's consideration. The Board gives less weight to the appellant's comparables #2 through #4 due to their dissimilar design and/or considerably larger or smaller dwelling sizes when compared to the subject. The Board also gives less weight to the board of review comparables #3 and #4 due to their smaller dwelling size or lack of a basement when compared to the subject.

The Board finds the most similar evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparable #1 as well as the board of review comparables #1 and #2. These comparables are most similar to the subject in design, exterior construction, age, dwelling size, and some features. However, the board of review two comparables #1 and #2 received greater weight by the Board because they are located within the subject's same block and are closer in proximity to the subject than the appellant's comparable #1. These three comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $3.07 to $10.45 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $9.68 per square foot of living area falls at the higher end of the range established by these three comparables which appears to be reasonable since the two board of review comparables have assessments of $9.84 and $10.45 per square foot of living area. After considering adjustments to the comparables for differences when compared to the subject, the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill.2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that the properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity, which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
