

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Eddie Dinkha
DOCKET NO.: 17-30673.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 09-14-306-016-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Eddie Dinkha, the appellant, by attorney George N. Reveliotis, of Reveliotis Law, P.C. in Park Ridge; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $6,737
IMPR.: $33,683
TOTAL: $40,420

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2017 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject consists of a two-story dwelling of masonry construction with 3,148 square feet of living area. The dwelling is nine years old. Features of the home include a full unfinished basement, central air conditioning, one fireplace, and a two-car garage. The property has a 7,700 square foot site, and is located in Des Plaines, Maine Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-78 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity with respect to the improvement as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on four equity comparables that are located within the same neighborhood code as the subject property. The comparables are improved with two-story dwellings of frame, masonry, or stucco exterior construction ranging in size from 2,912 to 3,496 square feet of living area. The dwellings are 8 or 16 years old. Three comparables each have a full unfinished basement, and one comparable has a crawl space foundation. Three comparables each have a fireplace, and each comparable has a two-car garage. Based upon the response in the appellant's grid analysis, the Board is unable to determine if the comparables have air conditioning. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $28,013 to $32,595 or from $9.29 to $10.17 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested that the subject's improvement assessment be reduced to $30,535 or $9.70 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $40,420. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $33,683 or $10.70 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables that are located within the same neighborhood code as the subject. The comparables are improved with two-story dwellings of masonry exterior construction ranging in size from 2,790 to 3,425 square feet of living area. The dwellings range in age from 9 to 16 years old, and each comparable has a full basement with one having finished area. Three comparables each have one or two fireplaces, and each comparable has central air conditioning and a two-car garage. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $33,536 to $42,387 or from $11.58 to $12.72 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested that the subject's assessment be confirmed.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The parties submitted eight suggested comparables for the Board's consideration. The Board gives less weight to the appellant's comparable #3 which lacks a basement and the board of review comparable #1 which has a full finished basement, when compared to the subject's full unfinished basement.

The Board finds the most similar evidence of assessment equity to be both parties' remaining comparables. These comparables are similar to the subject in location, design, full unfinished basement, and other features. The Board also finds the best comparable to be the board of review comparable #4 which is also identical in age and almost identical in dwelling size to the subject dwelling. These six comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $9.29 to $12.72 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $10.70 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the most similar comparables in this record and below the one best comparable in this record. After considering adjustments to the comparables for differences when compared to the subject, the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill.2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that the properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity, which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
