

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Eva Mendoza
DOCKET NO.: 17-32649.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 19-09-115-011-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Eva Mendoza, the appellant, by attorney George N. Reveliotis, of Reveliotis Law, P.C. in Park Ridge; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $2,834
IMPR.: $9,204
TOTAL: $12,038

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2017 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a one-story dwelling of masonry exterior construction with 1,152 square feet of living area. The dwelling is 55 years old. Features of the home include a crawl space foundation, central air conditioning, and a 2.5-car garage. The property has a 3,779 square foot site and is located in Chicago, Stickney Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-03 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity with respect to the improvement as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on five equity comparables that are located within the same neighborhood code as the subject property. One of the comparables is located within the same block as the subject. The comparables are one-story or "1.5-1.9 story" dwellings of frame or masonry exterior construction ranging in size from 1,153 to 1,427 square feet of living area. The dwellings range in age from 60 to 99 years old, and each comparable has a crawl space or slab foundation. One comparable has central air conditioning, and two comparables have either a 2-car or a 2.5-car garage. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $7,791 to $9,803 or from $5.98 to $7.05 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested that the subject's improvement assessment be reduced to $7,760 or $6.74 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $12,038. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $9,204 or $7.99 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables that are located within the same neighborhood code and same block as the subject. The comparables are improved with one-story dwellings of masonry exterior construction with 1,032 or 1,152 square feet of living area. The dwellings are 50 or 57 years old and each have a full unfinished basement. The comparables have improvement assessments of $12,454 or $12,896 or $10.81 and $12.50 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested that the subject's assessment be confirmed.

Conclusion of Law

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The parties submitted nine suggested comparables for the Board's consideration. The Board gives less weight to the appellant's comparables #2 through #5 due to significant differences with their older age, larger dwelling size, and/or lack of a garage when compared to the subject.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be appellant's comparable #1 along with the board of review comparables. The Board gives greater weight to these five comparables because they are closer in age to the subject and very similar in other property characteristics to the subject dwelling. However, each of the comparables lacks central air conditioning, unlike the subject, and the board of review comparables each have full unfinished basements, unlike the subject which lacks a basement. These five comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $8,983 to $12,896 or from $7.05 to $12.50 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $9,204 or $7.99 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables contained in this record. After considering adjustments to the comparables for differences, such as lack of central air conditioning and/or superior full basements, the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill.2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that the properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity, which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
