

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Ted Georgiopoulos
DOCKET NO.: 17-32701.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 18-34-408-050-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Ted Georgiopoulos, the appellant, by attorney George N. Reveliotis, of Reveliotis Law, P.C. in Park Ridge; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $2,760
IMPR.: $20,430
TOTAL: $23,190

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2017 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a two-story dwelling of frame and masonry exterior construction with 1,800 square feet of living area. The dwelling is 48 years old, has a concrete slab foundation, and a two-car garage. The property has a 6,900 square foot site and is located in Hickory Hills, Lyons Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-07 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity with respect to the improvement as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on seven equity comparables that are located within the same neighborhood code as the subject property. The comparables are two-story dwellings of frame and masonry exterior construction ranging in size from 1,800 to 1,972 square feet of living area. The dwellings range in age from 48 to 51 years old. Each comparable has a partial basement with one having finished area and a two-car garage.

One comparable has a fireplace. Based upon the response in the appellant's grid analysis, the Board is unable to determine if the comparables have air conditioning. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $18,698 to $20,749 or from $9.56 to $10.80 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested that the subject's improvement assessment be reduced to $18,655 or $10.36 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $23,190. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $20,430 or $11.35 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables that are located within the same neighborhood code and the same block as the subject. The comparables are improved with two-story dwellings of frame and masonry exterior construction with 1,800 square feet of living area. The dwellings range in age from 48 to 50 years old, and each comparable has a two-car garage. One comparable has a concrete slab foundation. Three comparables each have a partial basement with two having finished area and central air conditioning. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $21,364 to $21,469 or from $11.87 to $11.93 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested that the subject's assessment be confirmed.

Conclusion of Law

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The parties submitted eleven suggested comparables for the Board's consideration, all of which are relatively similar to the subject in most property characteristics, except seven comparables have basements, which the subject lacks. The Board gives less weight to the appellant's comparables #3 through #7 which are the only comparables in this record that are not identical in dwelling size to the subject property.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's remaining two comparables as well as the board of review comparables. These six comparables are identical in dwelling size to the subject and relatively similar to the subject in other property characteristics, except for the basement areas of five comparables. These six comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $19,389 to $21,469 or from $10.77 to $11.93 per square foot of living area. However, the board gives the most weight to the board of review comparable #1 with an improvement assessment of $21,384 or $11.88 per square foot of living area which is almost identical to the subject in every aspect and the only comparable in this record that lacks a basement, like the subject. The subject's improvement assessment of $20,430 or $11.35 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the five most similar comparables contained in this record and below the board of review comparable #1. Based on this record, the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill.2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that the properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity, which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
