

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Steven Steibel
DOCKET NO.: 19-31711.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 08-14-401-116-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Steven Steibel, the appellant, by attorney Herbert B. Rosenberg, of Rock Fusco & Connelly, LLC in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds A Reduction in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $1,736
IMPR.: $50,467
TOTAL: $52,203

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2019 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a three-story, six-unit, multi-family dwelling of masonry construction with 5,067 square feet of living area. The building is 43 years old. The property has a 2,331 square foot site and is located in Mt. Prospect, Elk Grove Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-11 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on 12 equity comparables, a corresponding brief with attached caselaw, a street map depicting the subject property's location in relation to the comparables properties and Google Map photos of the subject building and the comparable buildings. All of the comparables were improved with a six-unit, Class 2-11 development located in Mt. Prospect. The improvements ranged: in age between 41 and 46 years old; in size between 5,001 and 6,210 square feet of living area; and in improvement assessment from $6.81 to $11.07 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant is requesting an assessment amount of $46,731.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $71,056. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $69,320 or $13.68 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment the board of review submitted information on three equity comparables; two of which contained sales data. All were improved with a nearly identical 43-year-old, three-story, multi-family dwelling of masonry construction with a slab foundation. The improvements ranged: in size between 4,947 and 5,067 square feet of living area; and in improvement assessment between $13.74 and $13.86 per square foot of living area.

In rebuttal, the appellant argued that the board of review's three suggested comparable properties were in the same homeowner's association as the subject. The appellant argued that the board of review's reliance on its three suggested properties was contrary to Pace Realty because those properties received the same assessment as the subject as part of the same homeowner's association. The appellant argued that, as a matter of law according to Pace Realty, these suggested properties should not be considered by the Board to determine assessment inequity of the subject. The appellant reaffirmed the request for an assessment reduction.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparables in the Victoria Hills Development (PINs ending in -014, -017 and -013). These comparables had the same improvement assessment of $9.96 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $13.68 per square foot of living area falls above the range established by the best comparables in this record. These comparables were given more weight based on their similarity in design, construction and size. The board of review's comparables were given no weight in the Board's analysis. Pace Realty, 306 Ill.App.3d at 728 (The Board "errs as a matter of law when it selects as a comparable a parcel of property which has also received the same contested assessment. Conducting uniformity analysis in such a manner will lead to absurd results and will render the assessment appeal process meaningless."). Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
