Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2019 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property is improved with six condominium units and six parking spaces in a three-story, multi-family dwelling located in Chicago, Jefferson Township, Cook County. It is classified as a class 2-99 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance. Four of the units have two bedrooms, one bathroom, and 850 square feet of living area. One unit has two bedrooms, one bathroom, and 750 square feet of living area. Each unit owner obtains ownership of one of the six parking spaces.

The appellant contends overvaluation as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted an appraisal estimating the subject property had a market value of $410,000 as of January 1, 2018, if the subject property was sold as a whole, or $490,000 if the individual units were sold separately. That appraisal employed the sales comparison approach, relying upon recent sales of six suggested comparable properties.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject property of $98,450. The subject's assessment reflects a market value of $984,500, or $200.92 per square foot of living area, land included, when using the Cook County Real Estate Classification Ordinance level of assessment for class 2 property of 10%. The board of review submitted limited information about four suggested comparable properties and sales of those properties. The board of review asserts that the sales prices of those comparables support an assessment of $169.32 per square foot of living area for the subject property, which would constitute a reduction.

Conclusion of Law

The appellant contends that the market value of the subject property is not accurately reflected in its assessed valuation. When market value is the basis of the appeal, the value of the property must be proved by a preponderance of the evidence. 86 Ill. Admin. Code §1910.63(e). Proof of market value may consist of an appraisal of the subject property, a recent sale, comparable sales, or construction costs. 86 Ill. Admin. Code §1910.65(c). The Board finds the appellant met this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The Board finds that the best evidence of market value is sales comparables three, four, and five from the appraisal submitted by the appellant and the board of review's sales comparables two and four. The Board has some reservations about the appraisal because the appraiser did not make a single adjustment to the sales prices of any of the six suggested comparables to account for differences in location, living area square footage, or other features. Nevertheless, the Board finds that these suggested comparables support a reduction in the challenged assessments because of their similarities to the subject units and their sales prices.

Each of the above suggested comparables from the appraisal has two bedrooms, one bathroom, 800 square feet of living area, and a parking space. As noted above, five of the subject's units have two bedrooms, one bathroom, and 850 square feet of living area. The other unit has one bedroom, one bathroom, and 750 square feet of living area. Each unit owner obtains ownership of one of the six parking spaces. One of the aforementioned suggested comparables from the board of review has 850 square feet of living area; the other has 700 square feet of living area.

These suggested comparables sold between January 2016 and July 2018 for amounts ranging from $67,500 to $150,000 or between $84.38 and $176.47 per square foot of living area, land included in the sales price. The subject's assessment reflects a market value of $200.92 per square foot of living area, land included, which is above the amount suggested by the best comparables in the record. Accordingly, based on the evidence, the Board finds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
