

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: 9 W Walton Condo Assoc by Paul Powell
DOCKET NO.: 19-51875.001-R-3
PARCEL NO.: 17-04-435-038-1036

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are 9 W Walton Condo Assoc by Paul Powell, the appellant(s), by attorney David R. Bass, of Field and Goldberg, LLC in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds A Reduction in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $3,389
IMPR.: $404,386
TOTAL: $407,775

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2019 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a condominium unit with 1.1140% ownership in the common elements within a mixed-use condominium building. The property is located in Chicago, North Township, Cook County. The subject property is classified as a 2-99 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

Based upon a contention of law, the appellant asserts that the subject property was uninhabitable for the lien year in question. The appellant argues that in accordance with the limitations set forth in Section 9-160 and 9-180 of the Property Tax Code (Code) (35 ILCS 200/9-160, 35 ILCS 200/9-180), the subject was under construction/renovation in 2019 and a portion of the improvement cannot be occupied whatsoever. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted: building permits; an affidavit from the subject's agent; black and white photographs for the subject and similar units in the same building; documents from the Cook County

Assessor's Office referring to the 2020 assessment year; and vacancy affidavits. The affidavit attests that the subject unit received an occupancy permit on March 8, 2019, and was sold in April 2019. However, the affiant attests the new owner also renovated the unit and it was vacant for all of 2019. The photographs depict the subject with open walls, exposed electrical, plumbing and duct work. The documents from the Cook County Assessor's Office disclose that the assessor granted a partial occupancy to the subject property with an occupancy factor of 10%. Based on the evidence submitted, the appellant requests a reduction in the subject property's assessment to $45,721.

The board of review submitted "Board of Review-Notes on Appeal" which disclosed the total assessment for the subject of $429,707. The subject's assessment reflects a market value of $4,297,070, when using the level of assessment for class 2 property of 10% under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance. In its Condominium Analysis Results for 2020, the board of review listed assessment values for each PIN located in the building, including the subject property. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted its Assessment Analysis based on sales information on sixty condominium units located within the same building as the subject property. Based on a total percentage of interest of units sold of 75.4270%, the board of review calculated a full market value for the condominium building of $387,649,976, which results in a market value for the subject property of $4,318,420. The board of review also included in its Assessment Analysis information indicating the subject property sold on April 9, 2019, for $4,986,062.

In rebuttal, appellant contends the board of review's comparables should be given no weight because its comparable evidence does not address the construction/renovation of the subject property.

Conclusion of Law

The appellant has disputed the assessment of the subject property in part based upon a contention of law. Section 10-15 of the Illinois Administrative Procedure Act (5- ILCS 100/10-15) provides:

Standard of proof. Unless otherwise provided by law or stated in the agency's rules, the standard of proof in any contested case hearing conducted under this Act by an agency shall be the preponderance of the evidence.

The rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board are silent with respect to the burden of proof associated with an argument founded on a contention of law. See 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63.

The appellant's argument is based on Sections 9-160 and 9-180 of the Property Tax Code. Section 9-160 of the Property Tax Code addresses the valuation process and provides:

On or before June 1 in each year other than the general assessment year, the assessor shall list and assess all property which becomes taxable and which is not upon the general assessment, and also make and return a list of all new or added buildings, structures or other improvements of any kind, the value of which had not been previously added to or included in the valuation of the property on which such improvements have been made, specifying the property on which each of the improvements has been made, the kind of improvement and the value which, in his or her opinion, has been added to the property by the improvements. The assessment shall also include or exclude, on a proportionate basis in accordance with the provisions of Section 9-180, all new or added buildings, structures or other improvements, the value of which was not included in the valuation of the property for that year, and all improvements which were destroyed or removed. 35 ILCS 200/9-160.

While the subject is currently assessed according to this statute, the appellant further argues that Section 9-180 also applies to the instant appeal and which the appellant has argued provides as follows in Section 9-180 of the Code (35 ILCS 200/9-180):

Pro-rata valuations; improvements or removal of improvements. The owner of property on January 1 also shall be liable, on a proportionate basis, for the increased taxes occasioned by the construction of new or added buildings, structures or other improvements on the property from the date when the occupancy permit was issued or from the date the new or added improvement was inhabitable and fit for occupancy or for intended customary use to December 31 of that year. The owner of the improved property shall notify the assessor, within 30 days of the issuance of an occupancy permit or within 30 days of completion of the improvements, on a form prescribed by that official, and request that the property be reassessed. The notice shall be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested and shall include the legal description of the property. When, during the previous calendar year, any buildings, structures or other improvements on the property were destroyed and rendered uninhabitable or otherwise unfit for occupancy or for customary use by accidental means (excluding destruction resulting from the willful misconduct of the owner of such property), the owner of the property on January 1 shall be entitled, on a proportionate basis, to a diminution of assessed valuation for such period during which the improvements were uninhabitable or unfit for occupancy or for customary use. The owner of property entitled to a diminution of assessed valuation shall, on a form prescribed by the assessor, within 90 days after the destruction of any improvements or, in counties with less than 3,000,000 inhabitants within 90 days after the township or multi-township assessor has mailed the application form as required by Section 9-190, file with the assessor for the decrease of assessed valuation. Upon failure so to do within the 90 day period, no diminution of assessed valuation shall be attributable to the property. Computations under this Section shall be on the basis of a year of 365 days. (Source: P.A. 91-486, eff. 1-1-00.)

In the instant appeal, the appellant's evidence discloses that an occupancy permit was issued on March 8, 2019. At this time, the subject became habitable and assessable. In addition, both parties disclose that the subject sold in April 2019. The board of review is the only party to submit evidence of the sale price of $4,986,062. The Board finds this is the best evidence of the subject's market value. The fact that the property was vacant at the time of sale, establishes its fee simple value which is an accurate reflection of the subject's market value. Since market value has been determined, the level of assessment of 10% for Class 2 property under the Cook County

Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance shall apply. However, the Board finds that this value should be pro-rated to account for the 67 days prior to the issuance of the occupancy permit and a reduction in the assessment is warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
