

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Troy Lohrmann
DOCKET NO.: 20-01119.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 05-16-301-005

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Troy Lohrmann, the appellant, by attorney Robert Rosenfeld of Robert H. Rosenfeld and Associates, LLC, in Chicago; and the Lake County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Lake County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $ 40,059
IMPR.: $ 99,074
TOTAL: $139,133

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Lake County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2020 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a one-story dwelling of wood siding exterior construction that has 1,746 square feet of living area. The dwelling was built in 1987. Features include a full walkout basement with 793 square feet of finished area, central air conditioning, two fireplaces and an attached 748 square foot garage. The subject property is located in Grant Township, Lake County.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The subject's land assessment was not challenged. In support of the inequity claim, the appellant submitted a grid analysis of four assessment comparables located from .38 to .56 of a mile from the subject. The comparables consist of one-story dwellings of wood siding exterior construction that are from 52 to 70 years old. Three comparables have a full unfinished basement and one comparable was reported to have a full unfinished walkout basement. Two comparables have central air conditioning, and each comparable has a fireplace and an attached and/or detached garage of unknown size. The dwellings range in size from 1,179 to 1,917 square feet of living area. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $54,281 to $91,178 or from $37.41 to $47.56 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the subject's final assessment of $139,133. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $99,074 or $56.74 per square foot of living area. In support of the subject's assessment, the board of review submitted three assessment comparables located from .38 to .98 of a mile from the subject. The comparables consist of one-story dwellings of brick or brick and wood siding or wood siding exterior construction that were built from 1959 to 1969 with comparable #2 having an effective age of 1984. The comparables have lower level or full walkout basements that are full or partially finished. Other features include central air conditioning, two fireplaces and an attached and/or detached garage that contain from 396 to 588 square feet of building area. The dwellings range in size from 1,363 to 1,855 square feet of living area. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $93,480 to $147,275 or from $64.12 to $79.39 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer argued assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof.

The record contains seven assessment comparables for the Board's consideration. The Board finds neither of the parties' comparables are particularly similar to the subject due to significant differences in age, dwelling size and features. Nonetheless, the Board gave little weight to appellant's comparable #3 and board of review comparable #3 to their smaller dwelling size when compared to the subject. The Board finds the four remaining comparables are more similar when compared to the subject in location, design and dwelling size, however, these properties have less bathrooms, three comparables have inferior unfinished basements and four comparables are significantly older in age when compared to the subject, requiring an upward adjustment to make them more equivalent to the subject. These comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $63,708 to $147,275 or from $37.41 to $79.39 per square foot of living area. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $95,008 or $54.41 per square foot of living area, which falls within the range established by the most similar assessment comparables contained in this record. After considering adjustments to the comparables for differences when compared to the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is supported. Therefore, no reduction in the subject's improvement assessment is warranted.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. The requirement is satisfied if the intent is evident to adjust the burden with a reasonable degree of uniformity and if such is the effect of the statute enacted by the General Assembly establishing the method of assessing real property in its general operation. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill.2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
