

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Ho-Chunk Nation
DOCKET NO.: 20-42551.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 32-12-101-006-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Ho-Chunk Nation, the appellant by attorney Brian P. Liston, of the Law Offices of Liston & Tsantilis, P.C. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $17,910
IMPR.: $23,398
TOTAL: $41,308

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2020 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 435,600 square foot parcel of land improved with two improvements. Improvement #1 is a 68-year-old, one-story, single-family dwelling of frame construction with 1,332 square feet of living area. Improvement #2 is a residence with 571 square feet of living area. The property is located in Chicago Heights, Bloom Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on three equity comparables for improvement #1. All were improved with a single-family dwelling of either frame or masonry construction, a full unfinished basement and at least a one-car garage. The improvements ranged in age from 59 to 60 years; in size from 1,321 to 1,429 square feet of living area; and in improvement assessment from $5.66 to $6.33 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence the appellant is requesting an assessment for the subject of $31,131.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $41,308. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $23,398 or $17.57 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment the board of review submitted information on one equity comparable for improvement #1. The comparable was improved with a 58-year-old, one-story, single-family dwelling of frame construction with a full unfinished basement and a three-car garage. It contained 1,092 square feet of living area and had an improvement assessment of $25.77 per square foot of living area. It was located within the same neighborhood code as the subject property.

While the board of review did not submit separate comparables for improvement #2, they did submit in its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" information that both improvement #1 and improvement #2 contained a combined 1,903 square feet of living area.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

With regard to improvement #1 the Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparables #1 through #3 and the board of review comparable #1. These comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $5.66 to $25.77 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $17.57 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in this record.

Like the subject property, these comparables are each improved with a one-story, single-family residence with a full unfinished basement and at least a one-car garage. The dwellings on these comparables have similarly sized living areas and are within the same neighborhood code as the subject property. The Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

With regard to improvement #2 neither the board of review nor the appellant submitted any comparables. As such, the Board finds that the appellant did not meet the burden of clear and convincing evidence, as there is no range of comparables with which to compare the subject. Therefore, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is equitable and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
