Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2020 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property is improved with six condominium units and six parking spaces in a three-story, multi-family dwelling located in Chicago, Jefferson Township, Cook County. It is classified as a class 2-99 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance. Five of the units have two bedrooms, one bathroom, and 850 square feet of living area. One unit has one bedroom, one bathroom, and 750 square feet of living area. Each unit owner obtains ownership of one of the six parking spaces.

The appellant contends overvaluation as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted an appraisal estimating the subject property had a market value of $400,000 as of January 1, 2018, if the subject property was sold as a whole, or $475,000 if the individual units were sold separately. That appraisal employed the sales comparison approach, relying upon sales of six suggested comparable properties.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $55,210. The subject's assessment reflects a market value of $552,100, or $110.42 per square foot of living area, land included, when using the Cook County Real Estate Classification Ordinance level of assessment for class 2 property of 10%. The board of review submitted its Condominium Analysis Results for 2020, which included information regarding sales of all six condominium units and parking spaces at issue here for a total of $624,996 on October 23, 2020.

Conclusion of Law

The appellant contends that the market value of the subject property is not accurately reflected in its assessed valuation. When market value is the basis of the appeal, the value of the property must be proved by a preponderance of the evidence. 86 Ill. Admin. Code §1910.63(e). Proof of market value may consist of an appraisal of the subject property, a recent sale, comparable sales, or construction costs. 86 Ill. Admin. Code §1910.65(c). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds that the best evidence of market value is the board of review's Condominium Analysis Results for 2020, which includes data from the sales of each of the disputed units and parking spaces on October 23, 2020, for a total of $624,996. That amount reflects a market value of $125.00 per square foot of living area, land included, for the subject. As noted above, the subject's assessment reflects a market value of $552,100, or $110.42 per square foot of living area, land included, which is less than the market value suggested by the best evidence in the record.

The Board gives little weight to the appraisal submitted by the appraisal for several reasons. First, four of the six comparables relied on in the appraisal were sold more than three years before the applicable valuation date of January 1, 2020. See 35 ILCS 200/9-155. Second, the appraiser did not make any adjustments to the sales prices of the comparables to account for differences in location or features between the subject and the comparables. Third, the appraisal estimates the value of the property as of January 1, 2018, two years before the applicable valuation date. Accordingly, based on the evidence, the Board finds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
