

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Matthew Elias Koch
DOCKET NO.: 21-38163.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 20-15-411-006-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Matthew Elias Koch, the appellant(s), by attorney Jessica Hill-Magiera, Attorney at Law in Lake Zurich; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $4,650
IMPR.: $10,685
TOTAL: $15,335

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2021 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 113-year-old, two-story, multi-family dwelling of masonry construction with 2,606 square feet of living area. Features of the building include a full basement with a formal recreation room, two full bathrooms, and a two-car garage. The property has a 3,720 square foot site and is located in Chicago, Hyde Park Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a Class 2-11 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on eight Class 2-11 comparables with varying degrees of similarities to the subject. The appellant submitted partial information in the Residential Appeal form, but also provided their own grid with information on their suggested comparables. The appellant also submitted a "General Appeal Statements." The comparables were located within 0.41 miles of the subject property. The comparables had improvement assessments ranging from $1.93 to $3.70 per square foot of living area. The appellant requested the subject's total assessment be reduced to $12,796.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $15,335. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $10,685 or $4.10 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment the board of review submitted information on four Class 2-11 suggested equity comparables with varying degrees of similarity to the subject. Each comparable was located within a block of the subject property. The comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $4.68 to $8.78 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested that the assessment be confirmed.

In rebuttal, the appellant submitted a letter containing argument and two new grids, one of which was labeled "best comps" and included all eight appellant comparables and the board of review's comparables #1, #3, and #4. In their letter, the appellant commented on the board of review's suggested comparables. The appellant then argued that a reduction is still supported even if the Board found that the board of review's comparables were part of the best evidence.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill. Admin. Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill. Admin. Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds that the best evidence of assessment equity is the appellant's comparables #1, #2, #3, #4, and #7 and the board of review's suggested comparables #1, #3, and #4. Like the subject property, each of these comparables has a two-story, multi-family residence, two bedrooms, a two-car garage, and a full basement. The dwellings on these comparables are similar in age and living area size to the subject dwelling. They are all within a half of a mile of the subject property.

These comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $1.96 to $7.42 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $4.10 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in this record. The Board therefore finds that the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject was inequitably assessed, and a reduction in the subject's assessment on this basis is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
