

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: George Tsoutsias
DOCKET NO.: 21-41245.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 04-30-409-015-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are George Tsoutsias, the appellant, by attorney George N. Reveliotis, of Reveliotis Law, P.C. in Park Ridge; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $12,024
IMPR.: $52,742
TOTAL: $64,766

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2021 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

A 3,535 square feet, two-story masonry building on a 10,020 square feet lot in Glenview, Northfield Township, Cook County constitutes the subject property. The 13-year-old, class 2-78 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance included three bathrooms, central air conditioning, and a two-car garage.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the petition, arguing that the subject assessment must be lowered to $9.50 per improvement square foot to be equitable. To show the subject was not uniformly assessed, the appellant volunteered nine two-story improvements within .15 miles of the subject as assessment benchmarks. The appellant's proposed comparators featured no garage to a three-car garage, air conditioning (except property #6), and one to three bathrooms. These properties were brand-new to 67 years in building age; 2,826 to 3,762 in living square footage; and $6.02 to $12.73 per improvement square foot in assessment.

The county board of review maintained in its “Notes on Appeal” that the subject improvement was fairly assessed at $52,742, or $14.92 per living square foot. In defense of the $64,766 total subject assessment, the board of review nominated four masonry buildings on the subject’s block as equity comparables. The county board of review’s selections featured air conditioning, 2.5 or 3.5 bathrooms, and a two- or three-car garage. These improvements were 10 to 13 years old; 2,742 to 3,780 square feet in size; and $15.08 to $16.14 per living square foot in assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation, however; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When a property tax appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment, the appellant must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation for the year in question of demonstrably similar properties with compelling proximity to, and a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant did not surpass this burden of proof.

In this record, board of review comparable #1 and appellant comparables #4, #7, and #9 most resembled the subject property and therefore provide the best evidence of subject assessment equity. Board of review comparable #1 occupies the top of the range of equitable assessments because it contained more living area than the subject but otherwise matched the subject improvement’s amenities. Appellant comparable #4 similarly featured more living and garage space than the subject, which offset the comparator’s lesser bathroom utility. By contrast, appellant comparables #7 and #9 each had a deficiency relative to the subject: appellant comparable #7 had an improvement that mirrored the subject’s characteristics but was over three times as old as the subject improvement, while appellant comparable #9 contained less living square footage. These comparators indicate that the subject improvement would be equitably assessed between $6.02 and $15.08 per living square foot. Because the subject’s $14.92 per improvement square foot assessment is within this range, PTAB concludes the appellant did not demonstrate assessment inequity by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction in the assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
