

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Jayson Alicea
DOCKET NO.: 21-48427.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 13-27-213-029-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Jayson Alicea, the appellant, by attorney Andreas Mamalakis, of the Law Offices of Andreas Mamalakis in Kenosha; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $9,375
IMPR.: $30,628
TOTAL: $40,003

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2021 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

A 2,568 square feet, two-story masonry building situated on a 3,750 square feet lot in Chicago of Jefferson Township, Cook County constitutes the subject property. The 109-year-old, class 2-11 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance contained two bathrooms, a two-car garage, and a full basement.

Arguing the $30,628 assessment is inequitably high for the subject improvement, the appellant contends the assessment must be lowered to $5.95 per improvement square foot to be in line with those of similar properties. To bolster this argument, the appellant volunteered five class 2-11 structures within .94 miles of the subject as assessment benchmarks. The appellant's preferred comparators all included two fireplaces, a one or two-car garage, a full basement, and three bathrooms. Moreover, these properties were between 97 and 113 years in building age; 2,162 and 3,080 in living square footage; and $5.42 and $6.31 per improvement square foot in assessment.

The county board of review maintained in its “Notes on Appeal” that the subject improvement was fairly assessed at $30,625, or $11.93 per living square foot. In defense of the $40,003 total subject assessment, the county board of review nominated four properties within a quarter mile of the subject as equity comparables. The county board of review’s selections featured two bathrooms, a one- to two-car garage, and a full basement. These suggested comparators ranged from 98 to 100 years in building age; 2,076 to 2,448 square feet in living area; and $12.51 to $14.75 per improvement square foot in assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When a property tax appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment, the appellant must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation for the year in question of not fewer than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity, and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant did not surpass this burden of proof.

In this record, board of review comparables #1 and #2 and appellant comparable #3 best represent the subject property and therefore circumscribe the gamut of equitable assessments. Board of review comparable #1 was closest in improvement size to the subject and identically matched the subject in terms of bathroom count, lack of air conditioning and fireplace, and two-car garage. Similarly, board of review comparable #2 mirrored the subject in most characteristics except living space, of which it had more, and building youth, which partially offset the smaller space. On the other hand, appellant comparable #3 lacked even more of the subject’s livable area, though it mitigated the deficiency with an extra full bathroom and two fireplaces. Given these properties, PTAB finds the range of equitable assessments for the subject runs from $6.12 to $13.19 per improvement square foot. Because the subject’s $11.93 per improvement square foot assessment falls within this range, PTAB concludes the appellant did not demonstrate assessment inequity by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction in the assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
