

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Daniel Agnew
DOCKET NO.: 21-49708.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 13-17-417-009-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Daniel Agnew, the appellant, by attorney Stephanie Park, of Park & Longstreet, P.C. in Inverness; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $8,750
IMPR.: $20,170
TOTAL: $28,920

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 1,327 square feet, multi-level frame structure on a 3,125 square feet lot in Chicago, Jefferson Township, Cook County. The 99-year-old, class 2-03 residence under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance featured 1.5 bathrooms, air conditioning, a full basement, and a two-car garage. The subject last sold in February 2020 for $420,000.

The appellant petitions based on assessment inequity and requests the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) decrease the assessment to $16.37 per improvement square foot.<sup>1</sup> As evidence of nonuniform assessment, the appellant detailed the attributes of four class 2-03 residences in the subject's neighborhood. These suggested comparables featured a one- to two-car garage, one to 2.5 bathrooms, and a full basement. These potential comparators were 96 to 112 years in building age; 1,284 to 1,417 square feet in improvement size; and $11.93 to $12.67 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $20,170, or $15.20 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $28,920 total subject assessment, the county board of review volunteered four multi-level improvements on the subject’s block as equity comparables. The board of review’s preferred comparators all had no air conditioning, a one- or two-car garage, and one or two bathrooms. These properties were 97 to 108 years in building age; 1,059 to 1,464 square feet in living area; and $17.01 to $22.20 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When the ground for appeal is unequal treatment in the assessment, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment should consist of assessment documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties of compelling proximity to, and with a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant fell short of satisfying this burden of proof.

Based on their proximity or similarity to the subject improvement, board of review comparables #3 and #4 and appellant comparable #4 comprise the best evidence of assessment equity in this record. Neither board of review comparable featured air conditioning, making them inferior to the subject improvement, even accounting for their larger improvements and, in the case of board of review comparable #3, greater bathroom functionality. Meanwhile, though appellant comparable #4 did include air conditioning and a larger improvement, it had a smaller garage and was not as near the subject. Given the evidence on record, the subject improvement would be equitably assessed from $12.67 to $22.20 per living square foot. Because the subject assessment of $15.20 per improvement square foot is in range of the comparators’ assessments, PTAB concludes the appellant did not demonstrate inequitable subject assessment by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction commensurate with the appellant’s request is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
