

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Mark Schaefer
DOCKET NO.: 21-49746.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 10-33-305-020-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Mark Schaefer, the appellant, by attorney Stephanie Park, of Park & Longstreet, P.C. in Inverness; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $14,625
IMPR.: $33,080
TOTAL: $47,705

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2021 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 1,245 square feet, one-story masonry structure on a 6,500 square feet lot in Chicago, Jefferson Township, Cook County. The 95-year-old, class 2-03 residence under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance featured 2.5 bathrooms, a full basement, and a two-car garage.

The appellant petitions based on assessment inequity and requests the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) decrease the assessment to $11.90 per improvement square foot.¹ As evidence of nonuniform assessment, the appellant detailed the attributes of eight class 2-03 residences in the subject's neighborhood. These suggested comparables featured no garage to a two-car garage, one to two bathrooms, and air conditioning except comparable #3. These potential comparators were

¹ The petition indicates that the appeal is also based in a contention of law, but the appellant did not appear to make substantive arguments or present evidence to that effect independent of the equity basis of appeal.

60 to 69 years in building age; 1,170 to 1,295 square feet in improvement size; and $11.90 to $18.17 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $33,080, or $26.57 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $47,705 total subject assessment, the county board of review volunteered four masonry improvements within a quarter mile of the subject as equity comparables. The board of review’s preferred comparators all had a full basement, a one- or two-car garage, and one or two bathrooms. These properties were 70 to 95 years in building age; 1,242 to 1,294 square feet in living area; and $25.79 to $35.36 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When the ground for appeal is unequal treatment in the assessment, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment should consist of assessment documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties of compelling proximity to, and with a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant fell short of satisfying this burden of proof.

Based on their lack of air conditioning and other similarities to the subject improvement, board of review comparables #1 through #3 and appellant comparable #3 best represented the subject and therefore circumscribe the range of equitable assessments. Board of review comparables #1 and #2 were each slightly inferior to the subject because of their smaller improvements and lower bathroom count, which board of review comparable #2 partially mitigated with two fireplaces. By contrast, board of review comparable #3’s larger and newer improvement offset its smaller garage. Finally, appellant comparable #3’s larger and newer improvement helped offset its inferior basement and garage. Given the evidence on record, the subject improvement would be equitably assessed from $13.34 to $28.01 per living square foot. Because the subject assessment of $26.57 per improvement square foot is in range of the comparators’ assessments, PTAB concludes the appellant did not demonstrate inequitable subject assessment by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction commensurate with the appellant’s request is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
