

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Robert Richmond
DOCKET NO.: 21-50497.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 13-24-302-019-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Robert Richmond, the appellant, by attorney Abby L. Strauss, of Schiller Law P.C. in Chicago, and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $15,625
IMPR.: $48,136
TOTAL: $63,761

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2021 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a three-story multi-family building of masonry exterior construction with 4,400 square feet of gross building area and is approximately 96 years old. Features include a full unfinished and 4 bathrooms. The property has a 3,125 square foot site and is located in Chicago, Jefferson Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-11 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity concerning the improvement as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on eight equity comparables located in the same neighborhood code as the subject. The comparables consist of class 2-11 buildings of masonry exterior construction that range in age from 96 to 110 years old. The buildings range in size from 4,428 to 4,539 square feet of gross building area. Features include 3 to 5 bathrooms and a full or partial basement. Six comparables each have a two-car garage. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $26,115 to $37,951 or from $5.75 to $8.40 per square foot of gross building area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduced improvement assessment of $32,296 or $7.34 per square foot of gross building area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $63,761. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $48,136 or $10.94 per square foot of gross building area.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on three equity comparables located in the same neighborhood code as the subject and within ¼ of a mile from the subject. The comparables consist of class 2-11 two-story multi-family buildings of masonry exterior construction that are either 108 or 113 years old. The buildings range in size from 3,672 to 4,463 square feet of gross building area. Each comparable has a full basement, two of which have finished area either as an apartment or a recreation room. The buildings have 3 or 4 bathrooms and comparable #2 has central air conditioning. Two comparables each have a two-car garage. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $45,937 to $53,312 or from $11.37 to $13.60 per square foot of gross building area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

In rebuttal, appellant noted the dwelling size difference between the subject and board of review comparable #2.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The parties submitted a total of eleven equity comparables to support their respective positions before the Property Tax Appeal Board, none of which are particularly similar to the three-story subject in story height. The Board has given reduced weight to board of review comparable #2, due the significant difference in dwelling size when compared to the 4,400 square foot subject.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity on this record are the appellant's comparables along with board of review comparables #1 and #3, which are more similar to the subject in age, building size, foundation type and/or some features. Adjustments are necessary to the bathroom count for most comparables as compared to the subject property. In addition, each comparable necessitates adjustments for gross building area differences when compared to the subject and/or garage amenity/lack thereof when compared to the subject which lacks this feature. These ten best comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $26,115 to $53,312 or from $5.75 to $13.60 per square foot of gross building area. The subject's improvement assessment of $48,136 or $10.94 per square foot of gross building area falls within the range established by the best comparables in this record both in terms of overall improvement assessment and on a per-square-foot of gross building area basis.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. The requirement is satisfied if the intent is evident to adjust the taxation burden with a reasonable degree of uniformity and if such is the effect of the statute enacted by the General Assembly establishing the method of assessing real property in its general operation. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill. 2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence.

Based on this record and after considering appropriate adjustments to the best comparables in the record for differences when compared to the subject, the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
