

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Joel Monarch
DOCKET NO.: 21-56890.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 13-26-412-011-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Joel Monarch, the appellant, by attorney Joel R. Monarch, Attorney at Law in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $13,905
IMPR.: $28,420
TOTAL: $42,325

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2021 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

A 1,152 square feet, multi-level frame structure on a 3,973 square feet parcel in Chicago, Jefferson Township, Cook County comprises the subject property. The 133-year-old, class 2-03 dwelling under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance featured two bathrooms, a two-car garage, and a full basement.

Basing the appeal on evidence of assessment inequity, the appellant requests the Property Tax Appeal Board decrease the assessment to $20.86 per improvement square foot to remain on par with similar properties. To this end, the appellant placed into evidence four class 2-03 properties in the subject's neighborhood as comparators for assessment equity. These suggested comparables included one to three bathrooms, a full or partial basement, and a two-car garage. Additionally, the appellant's selections spanned 114 to 124 years in building age; 1,064 to 1,350 square feet in improvement space; and $20.25 to $21.54 per square foot in improvement assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $28,420, or $24.67 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $42,325 total subject assessment, the county board of review proposed four frame improvements within a quarter mile of the subject. The county board of review’s preferred comparators included one or two bathrooms, a full basement, and a two-car garage—except submission #1, which had no garage. These properties were between 118 and 138 years in building age; 1,136 and 1,426 in living square footage; and $26.84 and $31.74 per square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment is the basis of a property tax appeal, the appellant must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should comprise assessment documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties with compelling proximity to, and a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant did not submit this burden of proof.

In this record, board of review comparable #2 and appellant comparables #1 and #3 most resemble the subject property and therefore circumscribe the range of equitable assessments for the subject improvement.¹ While board of review comparable #2 featured more living space than the subject, it featured one fewer bathroom. By contrast, both appellant comparable #1 and #3 lacked some of the subject’s living square footage. While appellant comparable #3 mitigated its smaller space with extra bathroom utility, appellant comparable #1 included less bathroom functionality than the subject, placing it at the low end of the equitable range, which runs from $20.25 to $29.44 per living square foot. Because the subject’s $24.67 per improvement square foot assessment lands within this range, PTAB finds the appellant did not provide sufficiently clear and convincing evidence that the subject assessment was inequitable or that a reduction thereof is justified.

¹ The appellant provided internally inconsistent information regarding attributes of the subject property. Because the appellant once indicated that the subject property had two bathrooms, which comports with the board of review’s notes, PTAB finds the subject property had two bathrooms for the tax year in question.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
