

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Jose Pineda
DOCKET NO.: 22-20455.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 12-14-203-019-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Jose Pineda, the appellant, by attorney Dora Cornelio, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd., in Chicago, and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $5,233
IMPR.: $23,822
TOTAL: $29,055

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a one-story dwelling of masonry exterior construction with 966 square feet of living area and which is approximately 67 years old. Features include full unfinished basement,¹ and a two-car garage. The property has a 4,026 square foot site and is located in Norridge, Norwood Park Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-02 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity concerning the improvement as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on five equity comparables located in the same neighborhood code as the subject. The comparables consist of class 2-02 one-story dwellings of frame or masonry exterior construction which range in age from 68 to 70 years old. The dwellings range in size from 936 to 988 square feet of living area. Each comparable has a concrete slab foundation. Three homes have central air conditioning. One comparable has a fireplace and three comparables have either a one-car or a two-car garage. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $12,000 to $13,000 or from $12.82 to $13.35 per square foot of living area.

Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduced improvement assessment of $12,712 or $13.16 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $29,055. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $23,822 or $24.66 per square foot of living area.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on three equity comparables, where in the grid analysis, comparables #1 and #2, are simply duplicates of the same property. The three comparables are located in the same neighborhood code and the same block or ¼ of a mile from the subject. The comparables consist of class 2-02 one-story dwellings of masonry exterior construction which are 62 to 68 years old. The dwellings range in size from 790 to 852 square feet of living area. Each comparable has a full unfinished basement. Three comparables have central air conditioning and each comparable has a two-car garage. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $23,905 to $26,402 or from $27.80 to $33.42 per square foot of living area.

Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The parties submitted a total of nine suggested equity comparables to support their respective positions before the Property Tax Appeal Board which are similar to the subject in neighborhood code and classification. The Board has given reduced weight to appellant's comparables, due to differences in slab foundation type as opposed to the subject's full unfinished basement.

The Board finds the best equity comparables in the record are the board of review comparables, which are relatively similar to the subject in age, foundation types, and garage amenity. Each of the best comparables are smaller in dwelling size than the subject necessitating adjustments. Three of the comparables have central air conditioning suggesting downward adjustments to the properties to make them more equivalent to the subject. The best comparables in the record have improvement assessments ranging from $23,905 to $26,402 or from $27.80 to $33.42 per square foot of living area. The subject has an improvement assessment of $23,822 or $24.66 per square foot of living area which is below the range of the best comparables in the record both in terms of overall improvement assessment and on a per-square-foot of living area basis and appears to be logical when making adjustments to the best comparables for features that differ from the subject and considering economies of scale.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. The requirement is satisfied if the intent is evident to adjust the taxation burden with a reasonable degree of uniformity and if such is the effect of the statute enacted by the General Assembly establishing the method of assessing real property in its general operation. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill. 2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence.

Based on this record and after considering appropriate adjustments to the best comparables for differences from the subject to make the comparables more similar to the subject, the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
