

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Richard Simonds
DOCKET NO.: 22-21536.001-R-1 through 22-21536.002-R-1
PARCEL NO.: See Below

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Richard Simonds, the appellant(s), by attorney Jeremy Rosenfeld, of Robert H. Rosenfeld & Associates, LLC in Northbrook; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds A Reduction in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

DOCKET NO	PARCEL NUMBER	LAND	IMPRVMT	TOTAL
22-21536.001-R-1	05-28-206-028-0000	8,715	61,052	$69,767
22-21536.002-R-1	05-28-206-029-0000	15,493	19,372	$34,865

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of an approximately 72-year-old two-story dwelling of masonry construction with 3,260 square feet of living area. Features of the home include a full basement, a fireplace and a 2.5-car garage. The property is located in Kenilworth, New Trier Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-06 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on four equity comparables. These comparables have the same neighborhood code as the subject property, and are located 1.0 mile, 1.1 miles, 1.3 miles, or 1.4 miles away from the subject property. These are class 2-06, two-story residences with masonry construction, are between 80 to 93 years old, have 2.5 or three bathrooms, full basements, one to three fireplaces, a two-car garage, contain between 3,144 and 3,564 square feet of living area, and have improvement assessments between $23.44 and $26.47 per square foot. The appellant is requesting a total assessment of $104,632.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $113,434 (per attached board of review decision letter). The subject property has an improvement assessment of $89,226 or $27.37 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables. These comparables have the same neighborhood code as the subject property and are located 0.25 miles away or within the same "subarea" as the subject property. These are two-story residences, with masonry, frame, or frame and masonry construction, are between 83 and 105-years-old, have 2.5 to 4.5 bathrooms, central air conditioning, two fireplaces, have no garage or a two-car garage, contain between 2,529 and 4,321 square feet of living area, and have improvement assessments between $33.51 and $37.02 per square foot.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant met this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be appellant's comparables #1, #2, #3, and #4. As for comparables not found to be best evidence, board of review's comparables #1, #2, #3, and #4 are much smaller or larger than the appellant's property and have central air conditioning while the subject property does not. Additionally, board of review's comparables #2, #3, and #4 have different exterior construction than the subject property. Also, board of review's comparables #1, #2, and #4 have more bathrooms than the subject property. Lastly, board of review's comparable #2 does not have a garage while the subject property has a 2.5-car garage. The best comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $23.44 to $26.47 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $27.37 per square foot of living area falls above the range established by the best comparables in this record. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
