

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Andrew Finn
DOCKET NO.: 22-33849.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 09-27-306-092-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Andrew Finn, the appellant(s), by attorney Robert Rosenfeld, of Robert H. Rosenfeld & Associates, LLC in Northbrook; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $15,991
IMPR.: $66,008
TOTAL: $81,999

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a one-story dwelling of frame construction with 3,300 square feet of living area. The dwelling was constructed in 1972. Features of the home include a partial, unfinished basement, 3.5 bathrooms, central air conditioning, a fireplace and a two-car garage. The property has a 16,833 square foot site and is located in Park Ridge, Maine Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-04 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on four equity comparables. These comparable properties have different neighborhood codes than the appellant's property, as they are located 0.8 miles, 1.9 miles, or 2.5 miles away from the appellant's property. These properties are one or more stories, are each class 2-04, have frame and masonry construction, are 62 to 97 years old, have between two and 3.5 bathrooms, contain between 2,890 and 3,471 square feet of living area, have central air conditioning, have between one car and 2.5 car garages, and have assessment equities that are between $14.92 and $18.56 per square foot. Based on these comparables, the appellant is requesting an assessment equity of $72,784.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $81,999. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $66,008 or $20.00 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment the board of review submitted information on three equity comparables. These comparables are in the same neighborhood code as the appellant's property, as they are either on the same block, or within the same subarea of the appellant's property. These comparables are one story residences, with masonry construction, are between 59 and 64 years old, have 1.5 to 3.5 bathrooms, have three to six bedrooms, have partial unfinished, partial finished, and full unfinished basements, have two car garages, contain between 1,500 and 3,260 square feet of living area, and have an assessment equity between $25.02 and $55.52 per square foot.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be appellant's comparables #4 and board of review comparables #1 and #2. As for comparables not found to be best evidence, Appellant's comparables #1, #2, and #3 are much smaller than appellant's property, are constructed from frame and masonry construction as opposed to just frame, and two of the three properties are a significant distance of 2.5 miles away from appellant's property. Board of review's comparable #3 is less than half of the size of appellant's property. The best comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $18.56 to $25.27 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $20.00 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in this record. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
