

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Kurt Hanrahan
DOCKET NO.: 22-34675.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 09-36-301-007-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Kurt Hanrahan, the appellant(s), by attorney Dora Cornelio, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $10,200
IMPR.: $38,800
TOTAL: $49,000

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a two-story dwelling of stucco construction with 1,928 square feet of living area. The dwelling was constructed in 1930. Features of the home include a full finished basement, one-bathroom, central air conditioning, a fireplace and a 1.5-car garage. The property has a 6,000 square foot site and is located in Park Ridge, Maine Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-05 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on five equity comparables. These comparables are within the same neighborhood code as the appellant's property, but the appellant did not specify how far away these properties are from the subject property. These properties are class 2-05 two story residences, with masonry or frame and masonry construction, are between 76 and 94 years old, have one or two bathrooms, contain between 1,864 and 2,044 square feet of living area, have a full unfinished or finished basement, zero or one fireplace, three comparables have central air conditioning and two do not, between a 1.5 and 2.5 car garage, and have improvement assessments between $11.53 and $13.79 per square foot. Based on the comparables submitted, the appellant is requesting a total assessment of $34,627.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $49,000. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $38,800 or $20.12 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment the board of review submitted information on three equity comparables. These comparables are in the same neighborhood code as the appellant's property, as they are each 0.25 miles away. These properties are two-story residences, with stucco construction, have between 1.5 and 2.5 bathrooms, have a full unfinished basement or a finished basement, one comparable has air conditioning, while two of the comparables do not, zero to one fireplace, a 1.5 to two car garage, and overall they have an improvement assessment between $20.41 and $27.89 per square foot.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be appellant's comparables #1, #2 and #5 and board of review's comparables #1 and #2. As for comparables not found to be best evidence, appellant's comparables #3 and #4 were larger than appellant's property and had frame/masonry and frame construction as opposed to stucco construction. Board of review's comparable #3 is much smaller than appellant's property. The best comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $11.53 to $21.01 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $18.90 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in this record. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
