

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: John O'Malley
DOCKET NO.: 22-34762.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 09-25-309-002-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are John O'Malley, the appellant(s), by attorney Dora Cornelio, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds A Reduction in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $14,400
IMPR.: $44,581
TOTAL: $58,981

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a two-story dwelling of frame and masonry construction with 2,574 square feet of living area. The dwelling was constructed in 1932. Features of the home include a full basement, two bathrooms, no central air conditioning, a fireplace and a two-car garage. The property has an 8,000 square foot site and is located in Park Ridge, Maine Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-06 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on five equity comparables. These comparables have the same neighborhood code as the claimant, as the appellant did not specify how far away these properties are from the appellant's property. These are class 2-06 two-story residences, with frame, masonry, frame and masonry construction, or stucco construction, are between 74 and 104 years old, contain between 2,550 and 2,802 square feet of living area, have full finished basements, have zero to two fireplaces, have one to two bathrooms, have no garage or up to a two-car garage, and have improvement assessment between $16.75 and 18.08 per square foot. Based on the comparables submitted, the appellant is requesting a total assessment of $58,981.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $69,000. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $54,600 or $21.21 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables. These comparables have the same neighborhood code as the appellant's property and are located 0.25 miles away. These are two-store residences, with frame and masonry construction, are between 93 and 97 years old, have between 1.5 and three bathrooms, have between three and five bedrooms, have eight total rooms, have improvement assessments contain between 1,983 and 2,833 square feet of living area, have full finished or unfinished basements, three properties have air conditioning while one does not, one property has warm air heating, while the others have hot/water steam heating, each property has one fire place, each property has no garage or a two-car garage, and each has an improvement assessment between $21.26 and $28.04 per square foot.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant met this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be appellant's comparables #1, #3 and #4. As for comparables not found to be best evidence, appellant's comparables #2 and #5 are larger than the subject property and have different exterior construction than the subject property. Board of review's comparables #1, #2, #3, and #4 are either much bigger or much smaller than appellant's property. The best comparables had improvement assessments that ranged from $16.75 to $17.34 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $21.21 per square foot of living area falls above the range established by the best comparables in this record. Based on this record, the Board finds the appellant did demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
