

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Yvette Borrego
DOCKET NO.: 22-44421.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 10-17-428-011-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Yvette Borrego, the appellant, by attorney Dora Cornelio, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd., in Chicago, and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $4,875
IMPR.: $27,805
TOTAL: $32,680

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 1.5-story dwelling of masonry exterior construction with 1,219 square feet of living area and which is approximately 79 years old. Features include a full basement finished with a recreation room, a fireplace, and a two-car garage. The property has a 3,750 square foot site and is located in Morton Grove, Niles Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-03 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity concerning the improvement as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on five equity comparables located in the same neighborhood code as the subject. The comparables consist of class 2-03 one-story dwellings of frame, masonry, or frame and masonry exterior construction which range in age from 66 to 83 years old. The dwellings range in size from 1,160 to 1,340 square feet of living area. Four comparables have full basements, two of which have recreation rooms, and comparable #1 has a concrete slab foundation. Three homes have central air conditioning and a fireplace. Four comparables have from a one-car to a two-car garage. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $15,745 to $18,272 or from $12.89 to $13.75 per square foot of living area.

Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduced improvement assessment of $16,541 or $13.57 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $32,680. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $27,805 or $22.81 per square foot of living area.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables located in the same neighborhood code as the subject where two properties are ¼ of a mile from the subject. The comparables consist of class 2-03 1-story or 1.5-story dwellings of frame, masonry, or frame and masonry exterior construction which are 72 to 75 years old. The dwellings range in size from 1,046 to 1,248 square feet of living area. The comparables have full basements, with recreation rooms. Three comparables have central air conditioning. Comparable #3 has a fireplace and three comparables have two-car garages. The comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $24,483 to $29,230 or from $23.32 to $23.46 per square foot of living area.

Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The parties submitted a total of nine suggested equity comparables to support their respective positions before the Property Tax Appeal Board which are similar to the subject in neighborhood code and classification. The Board has given reduced weight to appellant's comparables #1 and #3 as well as board of review comparable #3, due to differences in foundation type or lack of a garage which is a feature of the subject property that has a full basement with a recreation room.

The Board finds the best equity comparables in the record are the appellant's comparables #2, #4 and #5 along with board of review comparables #1, #2 and #4, which are most similar to the subject in dwelling size and range in age from 68 to 83 years old as compared to the subject which is reportedly 79 years old. Each of the best comparables have full basements like the subject and two of which lack basement finish like the subject which suggests upward adjustments to these properties to make them more equivalent to the subject. Four of the best six comparables have central air conditioning which is not a feature of the subject dwelling necessitating adjustments to these comparables for this difference. Appellant comparable #5 needs an upward adjustment to account for a lesser garage capacity than the subject and five comparables need upward adjustments to account for the lack of a fireplace which is a feature of the subject. The best comparables in the record have improvement assessments ranging from $16,000 to $28,543 or from $13.31 to $23.46 per square foot of living area. The subject has an improvement assessment of $27,805 or $22.81 per square foot of living area which is within the range of the best comparables in the record both in terms of overall improvement assessment and on a per-square-foot of living area basis and appears to be logical when making adjustments to most of the best comparables for features that differ from the subject.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. The requirement is satisfied if the intent is evident to adjust the taxation burden with a reasonable degree of uniformity and if such is the effect of the statute enacted by the General Assembly establishing the method of assessing real property in its general operation. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill. 2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity which appears to exist on the basis of the evidence.

Based on this record and after considering appropriate adjustments to the best comparables for differences from the subject to make the comparables more similar to the subject, the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
