

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANTS: Robert and Rachel Petzold
DOCKET NO.: 22-44517.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 03-19-319-027-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Robert and Rachel Petzold, the appellants, by attorney Thomas E. Sweeney, of Siegel Jennings Co., LPA in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $6,316
IMPR.: $80,683
TOTAL: $86,999

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellants timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 3,757 square foot frame structure on an 8,712 square foot parcel in Arlington Heights, Wheeling Township, Cook County. The 18-year-old, class 2-78 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance contained 2.5 bathrooms, a full basement, air conditioning, and an attached two-car garage.

The appellants contend assessment inequity as the basis of the petition and request the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) reduce the assessment rate to $17.62 per improvement square foot. To show that the subject assessment is not uniform, the appellants presented five class 2-78 properties within one mile of the subject as equity comparables. These suggested comparators each had a two- or three-car garage, 2.5 to 4.5 bathrooms, and air conditioning. The appellants' selections ranged between five and 68 years in building age; 2,126 and 3,718 in living square footage; and $16.39 and $18.98 per improvement square foot in assessment.

The board of review responded that the subject improvement was fairly assessed at $80,683, or $21.48 per living square foot in its “Notes on Appeal.”¹ In defense of the $86,999 total subject assessment, the county board of review volunteered four frame buildings within a quarter mile of the subject as evidence of assessment uniformity. The board of review’s preferred comparables all featured 2.5 or 3.5 bathrooms, a full basement, and air conditioning. These properties were 10 to 16 years in building age; 3,372 to 3,641 square feet in improvement area; and $24.06 to $24.82 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayers contend assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation, however; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When a property tax appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment, the appellants must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation for the year in question of demonstrably similar properties of compelling proximity to, and with a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellants did not satisfy this burden of proof.

Of the parties’ submissions, board of review comparables #2 through #4 and appellants comparable #5 compared most favorably to the subject improvement and thereby circumscribe the range of equitable assessments. Board of review comparables #2 and #3 both lacked approximately the same amount of living square footage relative to the subject improvement, which the comparators mitigated with an extra full bathroom, and, in the case of board of review comparable #3, a larger garage. Board of review comparable #4 was missing some of the subject’s improvement area but also compensated for the difference with an extra full bathroom and larger garage. On the other hand, appellants comparable #5 lacked even less living space, and more than offset the difference with two extra bathrooms, a newer building, and larger garage. Given the properties in evidence, the subject would be equitably assessed between $18.98 and $24.24 per improvement square foot. Because the subject’s $21.48 per living square foot improvement assessment lands in this range, PTAB finds the appellants did not produce the requisite evidence to justify a reduction in the subject assessment.

¹ PTAB observes that in its “Notes on Appeal,” the county board of review referenced the 2023 decision from which the appellants petition. PTAB accordingly adopts the 2022 assessment values reflected in that decision, minor discrepancies in the “Notes on Appeal” notwithstanding.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
