

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Jayne Drew
DOCKET NO.: 22-44518.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 14-29-105-027-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Jayne Drew, the appellant, by attorney Andreas Mamalakis, of the Law Offices of Andreas Mamalakis in Kenosha; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $46,875
IMPR.: $33,125
TOTAL: $80,000

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

A 1,890 square feet, two-level frame building on a 3,125 square feet lot in Chicago of Lakeview Township, Cook County constitutes the subject property. The 144-year-old, class 2-11 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance included two bathrooms, a two-car garage, and a slab foundation. The appellant represented that the subject last sold in August 2022 for $1,045,000 and that assessment equity was the basis of the appeal.

Arguing the $33,125 assessment is inequitably high for the subject improvement, the appellant contends the assessment must be lowered to $10.32 per improvement square foot. To show the subject was not uniformly assessed, the appellant volunteered five class 2-11 structures within .30 miles as assessment benchmarks. The appellant's proposed comparators all featured two fireplaces, no garage to a two-car garage, a full basement, and two bathrooms. Moreover, these properties were between 129 and 143 years in building age; 1,680 and 2,172 in living square footage; and $8.54 and $12.80 per improvement square foot in assessment.

The county board of review maintained in its “Notes on Appeal” that the subject improvement was fairly assessed at $33,125, or $17.53 per living square foot. In defense of the $80,000 total subject assessment, the board of review nominated four two-story frame improvements within a quarter mile of the subject as equity comparables. The board of review’s selections featured no garage or a two-car garage, two or three bathrooms, and a full to crawl-space basement. These suggested comparators ranged from 128 to 143 years in building age; 1,440 to 1,764 square feet in living area; and $17.57 to $21.65 per improvement square foot in assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When a property tax appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment, the appellant must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation for the year in question of sufficiently similar properties showing the proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant did not surpass this burden of proof.

As the submissions most similar to the subject, board of review comparable #3 and appellant comparables #1 and #2 establish the range of equitable assessments for the subject improvement. Board of review comparable #3 mitigated its smaller living space with a better basement in a newer improvement. Similarly, appellant comparable #1 somewhat compensated for its smaller improvement with two fireplaces and a better basement. Finally, appellant comparable #3 partially mitigated its lack of a garage with two fireplaces and a newer building. Given the properties in evidence, PTAB finds the range of equitable assessments for the subject runs from $8.54 to $17.57 per improvement square foot. Because the subject’s $17.53 per improvement square foot assessment falls within this range, PTAB concludes the appellant did not demonstrate assessment inequity by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction in the assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
