

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Christopher & Tara Stone
DOCKET NO.: 22-46005.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 03-34-113-004-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Christopher & Tara Stone, the appellants, by attorney Brian S. Maher, of Weis, DuBrock, Doody & Maher in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $7,260
IMPR.: $21,417
TOTAL: $28,677

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellants timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

A 1,238 square feet, one-story masonry building situated on a 7,260 square feet lot in Mount Prospect, Wheeling Township, Cook County constitutes the subject property. The 65-year-old, class 2-03 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance included one bathroom, central air conditioning, a full basement, and a two-car garage.

The appellants contend assessment inequity as the basis of the petition, arguing that the subject assessment must be lowered to $12.43 per improvement square foot to be equitable. To show the subject was not uniformly assessed, the appellants volunteered four class 2-03 improvements in the subject's neighborhood as assessment benchmarks. The appellants' proposed comparators featured no garage to a two-car garage, zero to one fireplaces, and at least one full bathroom. These properties were 63 to 71 years in building age; 1,357 to 1,600 in living square footage; and $11.78 to $12.82 per improvement square foot in assessment.

The county board of review maintained in its “Notes on Appeal” that the subject improvement was fairly assessed at $21,417, or $17.30 per living square foot. In defense of the $28,677 total subject assessment, the board of review nominated four one-story buildings in the subject’s subarea as equity comparables. The county board of review’s selections featured one to 1.5 bathrooms, a one- or two-car garage, and zero or two fireplaces. These improvements were 66 to 68 years old; 1,107 to 1,366 square feet in living area; and $17.38 to $17.60 per improvement square foot in assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayers contend assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation, however; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When a property tax appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment, appellants must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation for the year in question of demonstrably similar properties with compelling proximity to, and a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant did not surpass this burden of proof.

In this record, every property submitted into evidence differed from the subject improvement in one material respect. Of the parties’ submissions, board of review comparable #4 and appellant comparable #4 most resembled the subject, but both required significant adjustment to approach comparability to the subject. Here, both board of review comparable #4 and appellant comparable #4 mitigated their lack of air conditioning and smaller garages relative to the subject with larger living spaces and an extra half bathroom, but both properties still differed too greatly from the subject property to be considered an equity benchmark. Because no property in evidence is similar enough to the subject improvement to serve as a comparator for assessment equity, PTAB concludes the appellant did not demonstrate assessment inequity by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction in the assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
