

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Sandra Orlowski
DOCKET NO.: 22-48821.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 04-34-216-034-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Sandra Orlowski, the appellant(s); and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $19,102
IMPR.: $46,864
TOTAL: $65,966

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a multi-level, 60-year-old, single-family dwelling of frame and masonry construction with 1,250 square feet of living area. Features of the home include a two-car garage, a partial basement, and heat. The property has an 11,939-square-foot site and is located in Glenview, Northfield Township Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-34 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on six equity comparables. Each of the appellants comparables were improved with multi-level dwellings of either masonry, frame, or frame and masonry construction. They range: in age from 57 to 64 years old; in size from 1,236 to 3,183 square feet of living area; and in improvement assessment from $21.67 to $31.13 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requests a total assessed value of $55,102.

In rebuttal, the appellant stated many of the examples provided by the assessor were slightly larger than the subject property featuring 2 full baths and a full basement. The appellant also stated they provided several comparable properties that were both larger and closer in size to their property than those provided by the assessor. Additionally, they included three addresses from the Glenview area to illustrate disparities in property taxes within the neighborhood. The appellant attached a document that lists homes in their neighborhood listing the PIN, address, land square feet, building square feet, land value, building value, total assessment, and the cost per square feet.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $65,966. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $46,864 or $37.49 per square foot of living area.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables. These properties are described as multi-level dwellings of frame and masonry construction. They range: in age from 58 to 60 years old; in size from 1,250 to 1,376 square feet of living area; and in improvement assessment from $42.02 to $44.91 per square foot of living area.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity, and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin. Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparables #1, #2, #3, and #5 and the board of review's comparables #1, #2, #3, and #4. These comparables ranged in improvement assessment of $21.67 to $44.91 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $37.49 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in this record. The comparables were selected due to similarities to the subject property in living area square footage, age, and/or location. After considering the differences between the suggested comparables and the subject, the Board finds the subject's improvement assessment is supported. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
