

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Diana Hoppe
DOCKET NO.: 22-49511.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 03-19-320-021-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Diana Hoppe, the appellant, by attorney Andreas Mamalakis, of the Law Offices of Andreas Mamalakis in Kenosha; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $6,316
IMPR.: $23,684
TOTAL: $30,000

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

A 1,049 square feet, one-story frame structure situated on an 8,712 square feet lot in Arlington Heights, Wheeling Township, Cook County constitutes the subject property. The 68-year-old, class 2-03 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance included one bathroom, a one-car garage, and a partial basement. The subject last sold in October 1992 for $129,000.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the petition, arguing that the subject improvement assessment must be lowered to $14.64 per improvement square foot to be equitable. To show the subject was not uniformly assessed, the appellant volunteered five class 2-03 structures within 1.3 miles of the subject as assessment benchmarks. The appellant's proposed comparators featured a one- to three-car garage, a full or partial basement, and one or 1.5

bathrooms. Moreover, these properties were between 60 and 66 years in building age; 1,008 and 1,184 in living square footage; and $13.89 and $15.34 per improvement square foot in assessment.

The county board of review maintained in its “Notes on Appeal” that the subject improvement was fairly assessed at $23,684, or $22.58 per living square foot. In defense of the $30,000 total subject assessment, the board of review nominated four one-story improvements within a quarter mile of the subject as equity comparables. The county board of review’s selections featured no garage to a 2.5-car garage, one bathroom, and a partial or crawl-space basement. These suggested comparators were 68 years old; 1,049 or 1,097 square feet in living area; and $24.54 to $26.67 per improvement square foot in assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When a property tax appeal is based on unequal treatment in the assessment, the appellant must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation for the year in question of demonstrably similar properties with compelling proximity to, and a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant did not surpass this burden of proof.

Given the subject improvement’s lack of air conditioning, board of review comparable #4 and appellant comparables #1 and #5 best match the subject’s amenities and dictate the range of equitable assessments for the subject. While the board of review selected three properties with precisely the same living square footage as the subject, only comparable #4 lacked air conditioning like the subject. Indeed, board of review comparable #4 was virtually identical to the subject, unlike appellant comparable #1, which was comparable to the subject in that it traded air conditioning inclusion, extra fireplaces and half bathroom, and a larger garage for some of the subject improvement’s living area. Appellant comparable #5 similarly lacked some of the subject’s living space but had a larger garage and two fireplaces. Given these comparators, PTAB finds the range of equitable assessments for the subject runs from $13.89 to $25.58 per improvement square foot. Because the subject’s $22.58 per improvement square foot assessment lands inside this range, PTAB concludes the appellant did not demonstrate assessment inequity by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction in the assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
