

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Pirooz Zomorodi
DOCKET NO.: 22-49816.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 03-32-107-018-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Pirooz Zomorodi, the appellant, by attorney Andreas Mamalakis, of the Law Offices of Andreas Mamalakis in Kenosha; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $8,550
IMPR.: $49,343
TOTAL: $57,893

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 2,506 square feet, two-story structure of frame-and-masonry construction on a 5,700 square feet lot in Arlington Heights, Wheeling Township, Cook County. The 70-year-old home, a class 2-06 residence under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance, featured 2.5 bathrooms, air conditioning, a partial basement, and a one-car garage. The subject last sold in March 2005 for $685,000.

The appellant based the petition on assessment inequity, contending that the assessment should be lowered to $14.93 per improvement square foot to be on par with those of similar properties. As evidence of nonuniformity, the appellant detailed the attributes of five class 2-06 residences within .70 miles of the subject. These suggested comparables featured a one- or two-car garage, two or 2.5 bathrooms, and a full or crawl-space basement. These potential comparators were 63 to 71 years in building age; between 2,445 and 2,662 square feet in improvement size; and between $13.60 and $15.87 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $49,343, or $19.69 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $57,893 total subject assessment, the county board of review proposed four two-story improvements on the subject’s block as equity comparables. The board of review’s preferred comparators all featured one or two fireplaces, a one- or two-car garage, and 1.5 or 2.5 bathrooms. These properties were 67 or 70 years in building age; 2,340 to 2,673 square feet in living area; and $19.73 to $22.69 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When the ground for appeal is unequal treatment in the assessment, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment should consist of assessment documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties of compelling proximity to, and with a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant fell short of satisfying this burden of proof.

Of the parties’ submissions, board of review comparable #4 and appellant comparables #1, #3, and #4 best matched the subject improvement’s attributes and therefore circumscribe the range of equitable subject improvement assessments. Board of review comparable #4 was near the subject and mitigated its one fewer bathroom and smaller garage with a larger improvement and a fireplace. Appellant comparable #1 not only contained more living area than the subject but also had a larger garage and basement and a fireplace. Appellant comparable #3, on the other hand, exactly matched the subject’s living square footage and had two fireplaces and a two-car garage. Finally, appellant comparable #4 contained slightly less living and garage space relative to the subject, but compensated for those differences with a better basement and a fireplace. Based on these most similar properties in evidence, the subject improvement would be equitably assessed from $13.60 to $22.15 per living square foot. Because the subject assessment of $19.69 per improvement square foot is between these bookends, PTAB concludes the appellant did not demonstrate inequitable subject assessment by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction commensurate with the appellant’s request is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
