

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Brian Martin
DOCKET NO.: 22-54414.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 04-34-204-046-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Brian Martin, the appellant, by attorney Dora Cornelio, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $21,222
IMPR.: $68,517
TOTAL: $89,739

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2022 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a two-story dwelling of frame exterior construction with 2,669 square feet of living area. The dwelling is approximately 72 years old. Features of the home include a full basement, central air conditioning, two fireplaces, and a two-car garage. The property has a 13,264 square foot site and is located in Glenview, Northfield Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as a class 2-06 property under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance.

The appellant contends assessment inequity regarding the subject's improvement assessment as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument, the appellant submitted information on five equity comparables that are located within the same neighborhood code as the subject. The comparables are improved with class 2-06, two-story dwellings of masonry, stucco or frame and masonry exterior construction containing from 2,722 to 2,800 square feet of living area. The dwelling range in age from 64 to 131 years old. Each comparable has a full basement and central air conditioning, four comparables each have one or two fireplaces, and four comparables have either a one-car or a two-car garage. The comparables have improvement assessments that range from $52,022 to $62,784 or from $19.01 to $22.42 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested that the subject's improvement assessment be reduced to $53,993 or $20.23 per square foot of living area.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" disclosing the total assessment for the subject of $89,739. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $68,517 or $25.67 per square foot of living area.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables that are located within the same neighborhood code as the subject. Three comparables are each located within approximately ¼ of a mile from the subject. The comparables are improved with class 2-06, two-story dwellings of frame or frame and masonry exterior construction containing from 2,233 to 2,582 square feet of living area. The dwellings range in age from 64 to 75 years old. Each comparable has a partial or full basement, central air conditioning, one or three fireplaces and either a one-car or a two-car garage. The comparables have improvement assessments that range from $65,963 to $76,800 or from $26.80 to $32.36 per square foot of living area. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested that the assessment be confirmed.

Conclusion of Law

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The parties submitted a total of nine comparable properties for the Board's consideration. The Board gives less weight to the appellant's comparables #1 and #4 along with the board of review's comparables #2 and #4 which are less similar to the subject in age, dwelling size, and/or lack a garage amenity, which is a feature of the subject.

The Board finds the best comparables to be the parties' remaining comparables which have the same assessment neighborhood and classification codes as the subject property and are also relatively similar to the subject in age, dwelling size and/or other features. These five comparables have improvement assessments ranging from $55,224 to $76,800 or from $20.04 to $30.40 per square foot of living area. The subject's improvement assessment of $68,517 or $25.67 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in the record. After considering adjustments to the best comparables for differences from the subject, the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

The constitutional provision for uniformity of taxation and valuation does not require mathematical equality. A practical uniformity, rather than an absolute one, is the test. Apex Motor Fuel Co. v. Barrett, 20 Ill.2d 395 (1960). Although the comparables presented by the parties disclosed that the properties located in the same area are not assessed at identical levels, all that the constitution requires is a practical uniformity, which exists on the basis of the evidence.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
