

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Sarah Carey
DOCKET NO.: 23-20554.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 16-06-319-060-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Sarah Carey, the appellant(s), by attorney Michael R. O'Malley, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $8,938
IMPR.: $53,179
TOTAL: $62,117

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a two-story structure of masonry construction, approximately seventy-three years-old, with 3,221 square feet of living area. The property is on a 6,876 square foot site in Oak Park, Oak Park Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as 2-11 under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance. Features of the building include two full and two half bathrooms, a full basement, air conditioning and a two-car garage.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. On Section II of her petition appellant indicated both assessment equity and contention of law as her basis of appeal. However, she only submitted argument and evidence that the subject property was inequitably assessed. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on five equity comparables with varying degrees of similarity to the subject property. The properties offered by the appellant are two-story, class 2-11 houses of masonry or stucco construction, ranging in age from fifty-eight to 102 years-old and ranging in size from 2,974 to 3,056 square feet of living area. Four of the comparables have two full bathrooms and one has three full bathrooms. All have full basements and air conditioning. Three of the comparables have garages. Appellant provides no information on the proximity of the comparables to the subject property. Based on this evidence, the appellant is requesting an assessment amount of $49,007.

The board of review submitted its “Board of Review Notes on Appeal” stating the total assessment for the subject property as $62,117 including an improvement assessment of $53,179 or $16.51 per square foot.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables. The properties offered by the board of review are two-story buildings of masonry construction ranging in age from sixty-four to seventy-two years old and ranging in size from 2,808 to 3,004 square feet of living area. The comparables have three or four full bathrooms and range in the number of half bathrooms from zero to three. Two have full basements and two have partial basements. All have air conditioning and a two-car garage. The board of review reports that two of its comparables are located on the same block as the subject property and two are within a quarter-mile.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by the appellant by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity, and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparables and the board of review's comparables #2, #3 and #4. These properties are similar to the subject in terms of living area, age, construction and – in the case of the board of review's comparables - proximity. In contrast, the board of review's comparable #1 is 413 square feet smaller than the subject property in living area. The Board finds that this comparable is afforded less weight based on this factor. The best evidence comparables have improved assessed values ranging from $10.94 to $18.46 per square foot. The subject property improvement assessment of $16.51 per square foot falls within the range established by the best comparables in the record. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
