

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Krusha Evans
DOCKET NO.: 23-20557.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 16-07-104-034-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Krusha Evans, the appellant(s), by attorney Michael R. O'Malley, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $10,294
IMPR.: $70,705
TOTAL: $80,999

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a two-story frame structure, approximately 125 years-old, with 3,025 square feet of living area. The property is on a 7,353 square foot site in Oak Park, Oak Park Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as 2-06 under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance. Features of the building include one full bathroom, two half bathrooms, a full basement, air conditioning and a two-car garage.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal.¹ In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on five equity comparables with varying degrees of similarity to the subject property. The properties offered by the appellant are two-story class

¹ In her petition, the appellant checked both the "Contention of law" box and the "Assessment equity" box, however provided evidence of assessment inequity only and presented no contention of law argument. We treat the appeal as being based on assessment inequity.

2-06 buildings of frame, frame and masonry or stucco construction ranging in age from 101 to 135 years-old. They range in size from 2,877 to 3,053 square feet of living area. Four of the comparables have two full bathrooms and one has one full bathroom. Three have air conditioning. Two of the comparables have two-car garages. All have full basements. The record is silent on the proximity of the comparables to the subject property. Based on this evidence, the appellant is requesting an assessment amount of $68,041.

The board of review submitted its “Board of Review Notes on Appeal” stating the total assessment for the subject property as $80,999 including an improvement assessment of $70,705 or $23.37 per square foot.

In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables. The properties offered by the board of review are two-story buildings of frame construction ranging in age from 118 to 148 years-old. Two have two full bathrooms, one has two full bathrooms and a half bathroom and one has one full and two half bathrooms. Three of the comparables have full basements and one has a partial basement. Two have air conditioning and all have garages ranging in size from one-car to three-car. The board of review reports that all its comparables are located on the same block as the subject property.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by the appellant by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity, and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparables #1 and #4 and the board of review's comparables #1, #2 and #4. These properties are similar to the subject in terms of living area, age, construction and - in the case of the board of review's comparables - proximity. In contrast, the appellant's comparables #2, #3 and #5 lack a garage and the board of review's comparable #3 has a partial basement and is 313 square feet smaller than the subject property in living area. The Board finds that these comparables are afforded less weight based on these factors. The best evidence comparables have improved assessed values ranging from $17.32 to $25.49 per square foot. The subject property's improvement assessment of $23.57 per square foot falls within the range established by the best comparables in the record. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
