

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: William Beukema III
DOCKET NO.: 23-21424.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 27-11-203-021-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are William Beukema III, the appellant(s), by attorney Dora Cornelio, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $7,680
IMPR.: $29,320
TOTAL: $37,000

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a forty-five year old one-story dwelling of frame and masonry construction with 2,280 square feet of living area. The property has 10,240 square foot site in Orland Park, Orland Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as 2-04 under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance. Features of the home include two full bathrooms, a basement¹, air conditioning, one fireplace and a two-car garage.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on five equity comparables with varying degrees of similarity to the subject property. The five properties offered by the appellant as comparables are each one-story class 2-04 homes of masonry or frame construction. They range in size from 2,247 to 3,170 square feet of living area. The comparables range in age from forty-six to sixty-seven years old. Four of the comparables have two and a half car garages and one has a two-car garage. All have full basements and all have air conditioning. The record is silent on the proximity of the appellant's five comparables to the subject property. Based on this evidence the appellant is requesting an assessment amount of $25,304.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" stating the total assessment for the subject property as $37,000. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $29,320 or $12.86 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables. The suggested comparable properties are all one-story frame and masonry structures. They range in age from thirty-nine to forty-five years old. The board of review's comparables range in size from 1,854 to 2,082 square feet of living area. All four have partial basements, air conditioning and two car garages. The board of review reports that three of the comparables are located on the same block as the subject property and one is within a quarter-mile.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by the appellant by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity, and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparable #5 and the board of review's comparables #1, #2, #3 and #4. These comparable properties are similar to the subject in terms of living area, age, construction and – in the case of the board of review's comparables – proximity to the subject property. In contrast, appellant's comparables #1, #2, #3 and #4 are each at least 743 square larger in livable area than the subject property. The Board finds that these comparables are afforded less weight based on these distinguishing characteristics.

The best evidence comparables ranged in improvement assessment from $8.01 to $14.47 per square foot of living area. The subject property's improvement assessment of $12.86 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in the record. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
