

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Sandra Tylka
DOCKET NO.: 23-21541.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 27-06-416-005-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Sandra Tylka, the appellant(s), by attorney Dora Cornelio, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $5,468
IMPR.: $39,531
TOTAL: $44,999

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a twenty-seven year old, two-story dwelling of frame and masonry construction with 2,697 square feet of living area. The property has an 8,750 square foot site in Orland Park, Orland Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as 2-78 under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance. Features of the home include air conditioning, one fireplace and a two-car garage.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on five equity comparables with varying degrees of similarity to the subject property. The five properties offered by the appellant as comparables are each two-story class 2-78 homes of frame or frame and masonry construction. They range in size from 2,432 to 2,771 square feet of living area. The comparables range in age from forty-four to fifty-two years old. Four of the comparables have two-car garages and one has a two and a half car garage. Two of the comparables have air conditioning. The record is silent on the proximity of the appellant's five comparables to the subject property. Based on this evidence the appellant is requesting an assessment amount of $26,504.

The Board of Review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" stating the total assessment for the subject property as $44,999. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $39,531 or $14.66 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the Board of Review submitted information on four equity comparables. The suggested comparable properties are all two-story frame and masonry structures. They range in size from 2,113 to 2,535 square feet of living area. The comparables range in age from twenty-one to twenty-five years old. All have air conditioning. Two of the comparables have two-car garages and two have two and a half car garages. The Board of Review reports that all the comparables are located on the same block as the subject property.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by the appellant by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity, and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be appellant's comparables #2 and #3 and the Board of Review's comparable #2. These comparable properties are similar to the subject property in terms of living area, age and – in the case of the Board of Review's comparable – proximity to the subject property. In contrast, appellant's comparables #1, #4 and #5 are dissimilar to the subject in that they lack air conditioning. The Board's comparables #1, #3 and #4 are all at least five-hundred and forty-two square feet smaller in improved area than the subject property. The Board finds that these comparables are afforded less weight based on these distinguishing characteristics.

The best evidence comparables ranged in improvement assessment from $7.78 to $15.05 per square foot of living area. The subject property's improvement assessment of $14.66 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in the record. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
