

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Khaled Hussein
DOCKET NO.: 23-21611.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 27-17-406-007-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Khaled Hussein, the appellant(s), by attorney Dora Cornelio, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds No Change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $9,734
IMPR.: $66,491
TOTAL: $76,225

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a fifteen year-old two-story dwelling of frame and masonry construction with 4,070 square feet of living area. The property has a 12,979 square foot site in Orland Park, Orland Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as 2-08 under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance. Features of the home include four full bathrooms, a full basement, air conditioning, two fireplaces and a three-car garage. The appellant submitted the decision of the board of review stating the total assessment as $76,225.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on five equity comparables with varying degrees of similarity to the subject property. The five properties offered by the appellant as comparables are each two-story class 2-08 homes of frame and masonry or masonry construction. They range in size from 3,904 to 4,800 square feet of living area and range in age from thirty to fifty-four years old. Four of the comparables have two full bathrooms and one has three. Two of the comparables have three-car garages, two have four-car garages and one has a two-car garage. All have air conditioning. Based on this evidence the appellant is requesting an assessment amount of $47,340.

The board of review submitted its “Board of Review Notes on Appeal” misidentifying the subject property with an incorrect address and property index number. Based on this error, the board of review states an incorrect land, improvement and total assessment of the subject property. In its assessment equity grid analysis, the board of review erroneously describes the lot size, construction type, age, number of bathrooms, living area, basement and garage of another property unrelated to this appeal. In support of its mistaken contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables. All of the suggested comparables are two-story houses of frame and masonry construction. One of the comparables has four full bathrooms and the others have three. All have one half bathroom. The comparables range in age from twelve to sixteen years old and range in size from 3,852 to 4,592. All have full basements and air conditioning. Three of the comparables have three-car garages and one has a four-car garage.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by the appellant by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity, and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did not meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted.

The Board finds that despite misidentifying and mischaracterizing the subject property, the comparables submitted by the board of review are relevant to this appeal and do have varying degrees of similarity to the actual subject property. The Board finds that the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparable #4 and #5 and the board of review's comparables #1, #2 and #3. These comparable properties are similar to the subject in terms of living area, age and construction. In contrast, appellant's comparable #3 and board of review comparable #4 are each at least 522 square feet larger in living area than the subject property.

Appellant's comparables #1, #2 and #3 have two fewer full bathrooms than the subject property and appellant's comparable #2 does not have a basement. The Board finds that these comparables are afforded less weight based on these distinguishing characteristics. The best evidence comparables ranged in improvement assessment from $9.46 to $17.19 per square foot of living area. The subject property's improvement assessment of $16.34 per square foot of living area falls within the range established by the best comparables in the record. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did not demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
