

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Frank Camarda Jr.
DOCKET NO.: 23-21999.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 27-12-104-013-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Frank Camarda Jr., the appellant(s), by attorney Dora Cornelio, of Schmidt Salzman & Moran, Ltd. in Chicago; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds A Reduction in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $13,965
IMPR.: $22,532
TOTAL: $36,497

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a decision of the Cook County Board of Review pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) challenging the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a thirty-three year old one-story dwelling of masonry construction with 2,526 square feet of living area. The property has an 18,620 square foot site in Orland Park, Orland Township, Cook County. The subject is classified as 2-04 under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance. Features of the home include two full bathrooms, one half bathroom, a full basement, air conditioning, two fireplaces and a three-car garage.

The appellant contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. In support of this argument the appellant submitted information on five equity comparables with varying degrees of similarity to the subject property. The five properties offered by the appellant as comparables are each one-story class 2-04 homes of masonry or frame construction. They range in size from 2,419 to 2,829 square feet of living area. The comparables range in age from thirty-four to sixty-seven years old. Two of the comparables have two-car garages, two have two and a half car garages and one has a four-car garage. All of the comparables have full basements and three have air conditioning. Three have two full bathrooms, one has one full bathroom and one has three full bathrooms. The record is silent on the proximity of the appellant's five comparables to the subject property. Based on this evidence the appellant is requesting an assessment amount of $36,294.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" stating the total assessment for the subject property as $46,000 with an improvement assessment of $32,035 or $12.68 per square foot of living area. In support of its contention of the correct assessment, the board of review submitted information on four equity comparables. Two of the suggested comparable properties are one-story masonry structures and two are one and a half story frame and masonry construction. All are thirty-four years old. The comparables range in size from 3,028 to 3,688 square feet of living area. Two have full basements and two have partial basements. All four have air conditioning and three car garages. Each has two full bathrooms and one half bathroom. The board of review reports that all four of its comparables are located on the same block as the subject property.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer asserts assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires that real estate taxes, "be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law." Ill. Const. art. IX, §4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). This uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not require absolute equality in taxation, however, and it is sufficient if the taxing authority achieves a reasonable degree of uniformity. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment process is the basis of the appeal, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by the appellant by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof needed for a conviction of a crime. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should consist of documentation of the assessments for the assessment year in question of not less than three comparable properties showing the similarity, proximity, and lack of distinguishing characteristics of the assessment comparables to the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Board finds the appellant did meet this burden of proof and a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

The Board finds the best evidence of assessment equity to be the appellant's comparable #1, #3 and #4. These comparable properties are similar to the subject in terms of living area, age and construction. In contrast, appellant's comparables #2 and #5 lack air conditioning and comparable #2 has only one full bathroom. The comparable's offered by the board of review are each more than 500 square feet larger in living area than the subject property. The Board finds that these comparables are afforded less weight based on these distinguishing characteristics.

The best evidence comparables ranged in improvement assessment from $8.13 to $8.92 per square foot of living area. The subject property's improvement assessment of $12.86 per square foot of living area falls above the range established by the best comparables in the record. Based on this record the Board finds the appellant did demonstrate with clear and convincing evidence that the subject's improvement was inequitably assessed and a reduction in the subject's assessment is justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
