

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Stephanie Murray
DOCKET NO.: 23-22185.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 11-19-111-011-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Stephanie Murray, the appellant, by attorney Robert Rosenfeld, of Robert H. Rosenfeld & Associates, LLC in Northbrook; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $14,341
IMPR.: $69,878
TOTAL: $84,219

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a two-story frame building on a 5,215 square foot lot in Evanston of Evanston Township, Cook County. The 127-year-old, class 2-11 residence under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance featured two bathrooms, no air conditioning, one fireplace, and a full basement.

The appellant based the petition on assessment inequity, contending that the assessment should be lowered to $19.72 per improvement square foot. As evidence of nonuniformity, the appellant presented four class 2-11 residences within .5 miles of the subject. These suggested comparables featured a one- to two-car garage, no air conditioning, two bathrooms, and a full basement. These potential comparator improvements were between 124 and 133 years in building age; 1,842 and 2,103 square feet in size; and $17.97 and $21.95 per living square foot in assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $35,084, or $17.08 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” As part of its argument, the board of review asserted that the appellant failed to “recognize the subject as a multi-improvement” property, and that the correct assessment rate for the property is $17.08 per living square foot for the property under appeal. In defense of the total subject assessment, the county board of review proposed four frame improvements within a quarter mile of the subject as equity comparables. The board of review’s preferred comparators all featured a full basement or slab foundation, no garage or a two-car garage, and air conditioning in submissions #1 and #2. These properties ranged from 124 to 144 years in building age; 1,996 to 2,236 square feet in living area; and $17.08 to $21.11 per living square foot in improvement assessment. The appellant submitted no rebuttal to the board of review’s evidence.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When the ground for appeal is unequal treatment in the assessment, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment should consist of assessment documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties of compelling proximity to, and with a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant fell short of satisfying this burden of proof.

In this record, the parties presented divergent descriptions of the subject property, with the board of review asserting that the appellant doubled the improvement assessment by failing to recognize that the assessment applied to two improvements, only one of which was under appeal. Because the comparable assessments submitted by the parties comport with the board of review’s asserted subject improvement assessment of $17.08 per living square foot, and the appellant provided no information to rebut the board of review’s claim, PTAB cannot determine the true nature of the subject property. Therefore, absent reliable evidence of the instant subject improvement assessment’s nonuniformity with comparable properties, PTAB finds the appellant did not demonstrate inequitable subject assessment by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction commensurate with the appellant’s request is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
