

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Edward Nash
DOCKET NO.: 23-22188.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 11-19-417-014-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Edward Nash, the appellant, by attorney Robert Rosenfeld, of Robert H. Rosenfeld & Associates, LLC in Northbrook; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $21,750
IMPR.: $34,655
TOTAL: $56,405

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 2,292 square feet, two-story frame structure on a 7,250 square feet lot in Evanston of Evanston Township, Cook County. The 114-year-old, class 2-11 residence under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance featured two bathrooms, a two-car garage, no air conditioning, and a full basement.

The appellant based the petition on assessment inequity, contending that the assessment should be lowered to $13.37 per improvement square foot. As evidence of nonuniformity, the appellant selected three class 2-11 residences in the subject's neighborhood. These suggested comparables featured no garage to a 2.5-car garage, 2.5 to four bathrooms, no air conditioning, and a full basement or slab foundation. These potential comparators were between 110 and 145 years in building age; 2,456 and 3,076 square feet in improvement size; and $11.88 and $14.99 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $34,655, or $15.12 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $56,405 total subject assessment, the county board of review proposed four improvements within a quarter mile of the subject as equity comparables. The board of review’s preferred comparators all featured a full basement, no air conditioning, and at least two full bathrooms. These properties were 108 to 134 years in building age; 1,898 to 5,799 square feet in living area; and $15.12 to $18.27 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When the ground for appeal is unequal treatment in the assessment, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment should consist of assessment documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties of compelling proximity to, and with a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant fell short of satisfying this burden of proof.

Of the parties’ submissions, board of review comparables #1 and #2 and appellant comparable #2 most resembled the subject property and therefore create the range of equitable assessments for the subject improvement. Board of review comparable #1 lacked some of the subject’s living space and its entire garage, while board of review comparable #2 featured more living area, which partially offset its lack of a garage. Appellant comparable #2 similarly had more living square footage than the subject, and had an extra full bathroom and a larger garage to boot. Given this record, the subject improvement would be equitably assessed from $13.23 to $18.27 per living square foot. Because the subject assessment of $15.12 per improvement square foot is within the range of equitable assessments, PTAB concludes the appellant did not demonstrate inequitable subject assessment by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction commensurate with the appellant’s request is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
