

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Scott Allen
DOCKET NO.: 23-22288.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 11-07-112-017-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Scott Allen, the appellant, by attorney Robert Rosenfeld, of Robert H. Rosenfeld & Associates, LLC in Northbrook; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $14,600
IMPR.: $49,660
TOTAL: $64,260

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

A 2,000 square feet, two-story stucco building on a 5,840 square feet parcel in Evanston of Evanston Township, Cook County comprises the subject property. The 97-year-old, class 2-05 residence per the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance featured 2.5 bathrooms, air conditioning, and a full basement.

The appellant pleads assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal, arguing that the subject improvement assessment must be reduced to $22.24 per living square foot. As evidence of subject assessment nonuniformity, the appellant presented four class 2-05 properties within .4 miles of the subject. These suggested comparables included two to three bathrooms, a full basement, air conditioning, and a one- to three-car garage. The appellant's selections spanned 98 to 138 years in building age; 1,782 to 2,110 square feet in improvement area; and $21.18 to $23.34 per square foot in improvement assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $49,660, or $24.83 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $64,260 total subject assessment, the county board of review proposed four two-story improvements on the subject’s block as assessment comparables. The county board of review’s preferred comparators included one to 2.5 bathrooms, a full basement, no air conditioning (except submission #2), and no garage to a two-car garage. These properties were 97 to 124 years in building age; 1,412 to 2,195 in living square footage; and $27.07 to $30.39 per square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When unequal treatment in the assessment is the basis of a property tax appeal, appellants must prove the inequity of the assessments by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment process should comprise assessment documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties with compelling proximity to, and a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant did not surmount this burden of proof.

In this record, board of review comparable #2 and appellant comparables #1, #3, and #4 most resembled the subject property and therefore circumscribe the range of equitable assessments for the subject improvement. Board of review comparable #2 contained slightly more living square footage than the subject, which mitigated the comparator’s lack of a garage. Appellant comparables #1 and #4 also had more living area than the subject, and offset their relatively old improvements with an extra bathroom and larger garage, respectively. By contrast, appellant comparable #3 lacked some of the subject’s living space and half bathroom. Given the properties in evidence, the subject improvement would be equitably assessed between $21.18 and $29.48 per living square foot. Because the subject’s $24.83 per improvement square foot assessment lands within the equitable range, PTAB finds the appellant did not provide sufficiently clear and convincing evidence that the subject assessment was inequitable or that a reduction thereof is justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
