

FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE DECISION
ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD

APPELLANT: Michael Henaghan
DOCKET NO.: 23-23483.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 15-36-202-015-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) are Michael Henaghan, the appellant, by attorney Andreas Mamalakis, of the Law Offices of Andreas Mamalakis in Kenosha; and the Cook County Board of Review.

Based on the facts and exhibits presented in this matter, PTAB hereby finds No Change in the Cook County Board of Review's assessment of the property is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

LAND: $9,693
IMPR.: $32,307
TOTAL: $42,000

Subject only to the State multiplier as applicable.

Statement of Jurisdiction

The appellant timely filed the appeal from a Cook County Board of Review decision pursuant to section 16-160 of the Property Tax Code (35 ILCS 200/16-160) contesting the assessment for the 2023 tax year. The Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the appeal.

Findings of Fact

The subject property consists of a 1,690 square feet, multi-level masonry building on a 9,693 square feet lot in Riverside of Riverside Township, Cook County. The 111-year-old, class 2-03 residence under the Cook County Real Property Assessment Classification Ordinance featured 2.5 bathrooms, air conditioning, and a full basement. The subject last sold in May 2018 for $467,000.

The appellant based the petition on assessment inequity, contending that the assessment should be lowered to $15.04 per improvement square foot. As evidence of nonuniformity, the appellant put forth five class 2-03 residences within .37 miles of the subject. These suggested comparables featured a 1.5- to 2.5-car garage, one to two bathrooms, and a full basement. These potential comparator improvements were between 104 and 115 years in age; 1,368 and 1,670 square feet in size; and $11.10 and $16.59 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

The board of review countered that the subject improvement assessment of $32,307, or $19.12 per living square foot, was equitable in its “Notes on Appeal.” In defense of the $42,000 total subject assessment, the county board of review proposed four improvements on the subject’s block as equity comparables. The board of review’s preferred comparators all featured a full basement, a two-or three-car garage, and one to two bathrooms. These properties were 81 to 101 years in building age; 1,047 to 1,621 square feet in living area; and $21.60 to $26.15 per living square foot in improvement assessment.

Conclusion of Law

The taxpayer contends assessment inequity as the basis of the appeal. The Illinois Constitution requires real estate taxes “be levied uniformly by valuation ascertained as the General Assembly shall provide by law.” Ill. Const., art. IX, § 4 (1970); Walsh v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 181 Ill. 2d 228, 234 (1998). Yet this uniformity provision of the Illinois Constitution does not mandate absolute equality in taxation; instead, a reasonable degree of uniformity in the taxing authority’s assessments suffices. Peacock v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 339 Ill. App. 3d 1060, 1070 (4th Dist. 2003).

When the ground for appeal is unequal treatment in the assessment, the inequity of the assessments must be proved by clear and convincing evidence. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.63(e); Walsh, 181 Ill. 2d at 234 (1998). Clear and convincing evidence means more than a preponderance of the evidence, but it does not need to approach the degree of proof required for a criminal conviction. Bazyldo v. Volant, 164 Ill. 2d 207, 213 (1995). Proof of unequal treatment in the assessment should consist of assessment documentation for the year in question of similarly situated properties of compelling proximity to, and with a lack of distinguishing characteristics from, the subject property. 86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.65(b). The Property Tax Appeal Board (PTAB) finds the appellant fell short of satisfying this burden of proof.

As the properties that best matched the subject improvement’s amenities, board of review comparable #4 and appellant comparables #3 and #4 constitute the best evidence of subject assessment equity. Board of review comparable #4 contained slightly less living area than the subject and traded the subject’s half bathroom for two fireplaces. By contrast, appellant comparables #3 and #4 (which did feature air conditioning) were remarkably inferior to the subject as smaller improvements with one fewer full bathroom than the subject—though appellant comparable #3 featured a slightly larger garage. Based on these comparators, the subject improvement would be equitably assessed from $16.54 to $21.60 per living square foot. Because the subject assessment of $19.12 per improvement square foot is within this range, PTAB concludes the appellant did not demonstrate inequitable subject assessment by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction commensurate with the appellant’s request is not justified.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board which is subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code. Pursuant to Section 1910.50(d) of the rules of the Property Tax Appeal Board (86 Ill.Admin.Code §1910.50(d)) the proceeding before the Property Tax Appeal Board is terminated when the decision is rendered. The Property Tax Appeal Board does not require any motion or request for reconsideration.
